General Fuad Shehab Elected Head of Troubled Lebanon

Soviets Keeping Mid-East Tense

Propaganda Drives Continue in Moscow

BULLETIN
LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan announced today he is calling for a special meeting of the United Nations Security Council to take place Aug. 12 and that he personally will attend it.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials said today the Soviet Union is trying to keep tensions over the Middle East crisis at a high pitch, probably to maintain pressure for a summit meeting.

The latest evidence of the Soviet propaganda drive was seen here in a Moscow charge made Wednesday night that the United States and four members of the Middle Eastern Baghdad Pact are plotting an attack on the new Iraq Republic. White House press secretary James Hagerty called the charge ridiculous.

Other officials said it seems to be part of a pattern with Soviet Premier Khrushchev's own charges, made recently in letters to President Eisenhower. Khrushchev has contended that the United States and Britain have already committed aggression in Lebanon and Jordan and are planning to broaden military operations in the area.

Khrushchev, in making those charges, said the Western powers had brought the world to the brink of war. He contended that only a meeting of the heads of government could deal with the situation.

Western officials said they act-

Tiny Nation's Idol Popular Choice Of Parliament

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Lebanon's top soldier, Gen. Fuad Shehab, was elected president today as a compromise choice to end the rebellion against pro-Western President Camille Chamoun.

The Lebanese Parliament elected the 56-year-old nonpolitical army commander in chief on the second ballot. He got 48 votes to 7 for Raymond Ede. There was one blank ballot.

Shehab's election will not automatically solve the strife which in 83 days has brought this Riviera of the Middle East to the brink of economic ruin and resulted in the landing of 10,000 U. S. troops in Beirut.

Atmosphere of Hope

But observers felt the general's taking control could provide a breathing spell during which peace and order might be restored. There was an atmosphere of hope and expectancy among the Lebanese people, who have lived amid intermittent bombing and shooting for almost three months.

Both rebels and government supporters appeared tired of the struggle.

Chamoun's six-year term in the presidency does not end until Sept. 23, and a U. S. Embassy spokesman already has said that Shehab's election as a compromise between the warring factions would not by itself clear the way for the U. S. troops to withdraw.

Depends On Guarantee

American withdrawal will also depend on re-establishment of internal security and a U. N. guarantee of Lebanese independence, the spokesman said.

The heart of Beirut around the flatiron shaped, beige Parliament Building was sealed off by security troops as deputies gathered for the election. A curfew was in effect in the area. Even holders of gun licenses were forbidden to carry weapons in the area, and deputies were warned their cars would be searched.

Ede, head of the middle-of-the-

Motorist Is Cited Following Accident

Martin H. Fraundorfer, 43, of 1731 Southeast Blvd., was cited for unsafe operation following a two-car crash Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. on Rt. 7, about a half-mile north of Steubenville, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

Fraundorfer was attempting to pass a car driven by William D. Shreve, 18, of Steubenville when his auto struck the medial strip of the four-lane highway. His car then bounced back and struck the Shreve car, officers said.

Fraundorfer posted a $50 bond for his appearance Aug. 8 at 7:30 p.m. before Mayor Donald Day of Wintersville.

Senate Okays Defense Bill

House Gets Record Peacetime Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—A record peacetime money bill to give the nation's defense forces a stronger space age punch moved back to the House today with unanimous Senate endorsement.

Winding up an overtime session, the Senate voted 71-9 Wednesday night to give the Pentagon $40,042,181,000 for the armed forces during the fiscal year that began July 1.

The House earlier voted about 38½ billions. Unless it unexpectedly approves the more than 1½ billion added by the Senate, the bill will go to a joint conference committee. That group's compromise version will, in turn, require approval of both houses.

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.), floor manager for the bill, said it would assure the nation enough power to deliver a knockout punch in a big war or "to handle not one but several brush wars at a single time."

He said the extra money added by the Senate would permit a step-up in missiles, aircraft, nuclear submarines and other major categories of military hardware.

As cleared by the Senate, the bill earmarks more than 18 billion dollars for the Air Force, about 11½ billion for the Navy and Marines, about 9 billion for the Army and the balance for interservice activities.

The Senate total is $1,200,000,000 more than President Eisenhower originally asked, but includes

Excursion Ship Rams Bridge, 3 Are Injured

Steamer 'Canadiana' Has Decks Smashed By Span At Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A 210-foot excursion ship with 885 passengers aboard rammed into the Toledo Terminal railroad bridge Wednesday night as the bridge's swing-span closed in front of the steamer.

Only three persons aboard the SS Canadiana suffered injuries and all were minor. They were treated at hospitals and released.

Capt. Phillip Thorpe said the excursion boat, which runs daily between here and Bob-lo Island in the Detroit River, was following the freighter Frank E. Taplin into the Maumee River. The freighter passed through the opened bridge and the Canadiana was right behind.

Apparently the bridge operator didn't spot the excursion ship and started closing the swing-span.

The captain blew five blasts on the ship horn, then threw the big craft into reverse. It was too late.

The ship slammed into the side of the bridge. The second and third decks were smashed from the prow back to the superstructure bulkheads enclosing the dance floor and the inside recreation areas.

The Canadiana has a capacity of 2,270 passengers. It was about one-third filled.

The injured were Mrs. Margaret DeWees, 49, of Walbridge, Ohio, and Stephanie Kolodziecki, 68 and Edward Yosses, 8, both of Toledo. Mrs. DeWees suffered chest and leg injuries. The boy had a bruised leg and the other woman was treated for shock.

Among those aboard the Canadiana was Toledo Police Lt. Kenneth Foss with his family. This is the way he described what happened: "I heard five short blasts on the ship horn. However the bridge span continued to swing shut and I heard another warning blast given by our captain and felt the ship lurch into reverse."

"It was too late by that time and the people standing on the second deck with me started running aft. There wasn't any real panic, but a awful lot of screaming and shouting."

"A lot of children had become separated from their parents and were crying. Everyone started grabbing life jackets and my wife and I put one on."

The bridge, a double-track affair, was damaged on the west-bound lane. After the crash, the ship backed off and repairmen worked on the bridge to get it into operation again.

Aiello Passes Board Test As Pharmacist

Joseph F. Aiello, 24, of 526 Franklin Ave. was among those who passed state examinations for registered pharmacists at Columbus on June 23-24, the state board announced today.

Mr. Aiello, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Aiello, was graduated from the Ohio Northern University school of pharmacy in June. He is a 1954 graduate of Salem High School. He is employed at the Broadway Lease drug store.

Victim Recovering in Hospital

Circus Leopard Drags Young Girl Into Cage

PERU, Ill. (AP)—For little Patricia Kenney the exciting trip to see the clumsy circus elephants turned into a moment of pain and horror as a snarling leopard swiped out with a paw and dragged the screaming girl to its barred cage.

"I just saw this paw come out and catch the little girl," related Mrs. Joseph Fitzgerald, who took Patricia, 6, and seven of her chums to the circus grounds Tuesday.

"Then I heard her scream. It was terrible. That awful cat could have got any of them."

Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kenney of nearby Utica, was reported in serious condition in a Peru hospital. Sixty stitches were required to close lacerations in her leg.

Mrs. Fitzgerald told this story: She was driving her son Thom-

4-Cent Rates Effective at Midnight

Today Is Final Day For 3-Cent Stamp

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another American institution—the three-cent stamp for letters—makes its last stand today.

It'll give way to the four-cent stamp at midnight.

The changeover is one of a series of upward revisions in postal rates designed to produce more than half a billion dollars in annual revenue to help run the deficit-ridden Post Office Department.

First-class rates—those that concern the general public—go up Friday. Higher rates for newspapers, magazines and advertising matter will become effective Jan. 1, 1959.

Besides the letter stamp, other increases will raise postcards from two to three cents, air mail letter from six to seven cents and airmail post cards from four to five cents. Drop letters, used in some smaller post offices, will advance from two to three cents. These rates will also apply to mail bound for Canada and Mexico.

Mail sent to other foreign countries will continue to cost a basic eight cents for the first ounce, but five instead of four cents for each additional ounce. Postcards go from four to five cents.

There will be no changes in the international airmail rates ranging from 10 to 25 cents per ounce.

The Post Office Department laid down strict orders that any letters mailed after midnight must conform to the new rates, or be subject to the postage due regulation.

One other thing: Mail dropped in a box in time for the last pickup today can get by at the old rates even though the postal folk may not get around to postmarking it until after midnight.

Record Enrollment Of 1,450 Expected In Lisbon Schools

LISBON — The Lisbon exempted village school system will have a record enrollment of 1,450 pupils in September, according to school officials.

This is 262 more than last year when the count was 1,190, and exceeds by over 100 the previous high of 1,347 in the 1955-1956 term.

Addition of a kindergarten after the lapse of a year, and approximately 110 Beaver Local School pupils in the Elkrun district which was transferred to the Lisbon system July 1, accounts for some of the hike in enrollment, but schoolmen say the increase is due also to general growth in the district.

Tentative enrollment figures indicate a kindergarten of 94; 912 in grades one through seven, including four first grades averaging 38 pupils each; and 446 at the high school in grades 8 through 12.

All 108 pupils in grade seven will be housed outside of the three schools. One class will be at the Methodist Church, one at the Beaver Street Church of Christ and one at St. George's Parish house.

To meet the need for additional classrooms, the school board has placed a $135,000 bond issue on the Nov. 4 ballots. If voters approve the issue, a six-room annex will be constructed at Lincoln School.

Social Security Action Slated

Pensions May Be Fattened by House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House called up for action today a bill to fatten Social Security pension checks.

The far-reaching measure, with an accompanying increase in the payroll tax on 75 million covered workers and their employers, was expected to whisk through the House with election-year ease.

Every election year since 1952 Congress has liberalized the Social Security system. Despite administration misgivings, the pattern seemed likely to be followed again this year.

In addition to raising benefits and tax rates, the bill provides for easing of eligibility requirements. It increases by 283 million dollars a year the federal government's share of state-operated public assistance programs for the blind, disabled and other needy.

Its chief provision calls for a 7 per cent increase in old age, survivors and disability benefits, with a minimum boost of $3 a month.

For the 12 million persons now on the retired rolls, the increase would mean a boost in monthly benefit checks from the present range of $30 to $108.50 to a new range of $33 to $118 a month. Maximum family benefits would go up from $200 to $254 a month.

To pay for these added benefits, the payroll tax rate would be increased one quarter per cent each for workers and their employers and the taxable wage base would be upped from $4,200 to $4,800 a year.

The tax on a worker making $4,800 or more would go up from $94.50 to $120 a year next Jan. 1, with another increase due a year later.

In sending the bill to the House, the Ways and Means Committee said higher benefits are necessary to offset increased living costs since 1954.

Atlantic Alliance Fails To Iron Out Differences

PARIS (AP) — A last-minute meeting of the 15-nation Atlantic Alliance failed today to iron out differences among Britain, France and the United States over acceptance of the Soviet bid for a summit conference.

Delegates to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council have met three times in 24 hours in an effort to work out a compromise. Britain and United States want to hold the summit talks on Middle Eastern problems within the framework of the United Nations. Premier de Gaulle of France insists on a private meeting of the big powers outside the "circus atmosphere"—as one aide called it—of the United Nations Security Council.

2.38 Inches Last Night Hikes July Total to 10.35

Threat of Major Crop Losses Looms; Some Areas Benefit

An approximate three inches of rain which fell Wednesday night boosted the July total to 10.35 inches — the record rainfall for any month since October, 1892, when the Columbiana County Weather Bureau station at Millport was opened.

Edwin Copeland, the county's government cooperative weather observer, said downpour last night extended in a belt across the state, heavy in some sections and light in others. The state average was about three inches, he said.

In Hanoverton, he said, only .75 inch of rain fell. Rainfall measured at the Salem sewage disposal plant totaled 2.38 inches since noon Wednesday.

Besides this July and July, 1941 when 10.15 inches of rain fell, total precipitation exceeding nine inches has been recorded in only two other months — January, 1937 with 9.72 inches, and September, 1926 with 9.50 inches.

28.7 Inches Recorded
Precipitation for the first seven months of this year totals 28.7 inches, five inches above the average of 23.14.

Last night's storm, besides inflicting additional crop losses on county farmers, left sections of a number of roads axle-deep in water and accounted for at least one traffic mishap.

State Highway patrolmen said a truck-trailer operated by Peter Kreshon, 48, of Beaver Falls, Pa., went off the road on Rt. 14, a mile west of New Waterford, at 4:45 a.m. today when the driver's vision was obscured by water splashing on the windshield as he drove through a flooded section of the highway. Slight damage was caused.

Flood waters swept over the road surfaces of bridges in the Leetonia area, forcing the closing this morning of the Leetonia - Franklin

Judge Seeks Court Test of Election Law

Apparently laying the groundwork for a court test of a newly-effective law that says he cannot run in the November election because he was defeated for party nomination in the May primaries, County Judge Samuel J. Crawford filed for a second term with the County Election Board at East Liverpool Wednesday afternoon.

The judge's nominating petitions for a nonpartisan ballot place were filed by Atty. Paul Tobin, his counsel.

Board Clerk Frank R. O'Hanlon said, "The purported petition was accepted over the counter as a matter of courtesy, but they were told that because of the law the question of his right to a ballot place will have to be decided by the Election Board."

Filings for the county court posts close at 4 Wednesday afternoon. The board already has scheduled its regular "sufficiency meeting" for Monday night at 8 when it will determine which candidates' petitions qualify for ballot places on Nov. 4.

Judge Crawford was elected in November, 1957 for a one-year term that expires Dec. 31. He seeks to run for a new term starting Jan. 1, although a state law says a person defeated in a party primary in May cannot be a candidate for any office in the November general election, either via a nominating petition or write-in votes.

Although this law apparently disqualifies Crawford, he evidently

Rocket Flight Conditions Are Duplicated

Test Pilot Withstands 1,320-Pound Pressure

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Test pilot Al Blackburn sits strapped in the tiny cockpit, a jaunty smile on his tanned face.

He is one of the first fliers to volunteer for a test that duplicates the same pressure he'd feel in a three-stage rocket acceleration to 18,000 m.p.h.

His cockpit is in a laboratory at the University of Southern California Medical School, in a centrifuge — a machine whose 24-foot-long arm spins the pilot fast enough to match the pressures of rocket flight.

The experiment conducted Wednesday, is to test human reaction — both mental and physical — to rocket flight pressures.

Blackburn still smiles as the

Swedish Youth Gets Mother's Kidney, May Save His Life

BOSTON (AP) — Nils-Olov Wisell is different from most boys 11-years-old. He's small — 4½ feet. He's light — 50 pounds. And his life hinges on a human kidney the size of your fist.

The youngest was born with only one kidney. He lost it last April when he toppled from a merry-go-round near his home in Motala, Sweden. Doctors hope to save his life in a history-making operation by transplanting a kidney from his mother.

Thus far, kidney transplants have been successful only between identical twins. All transplants between non-identical twins have been unsuccessful.

Since he was admitted to Peter Bent Brigham Hospital on July 1, 50 doctors and surgeons have been working on Nils.

More than a thousand persons — from hospitals' laboratories to laundries — are attempting to save his life. Seven hospitals have pooled their resources to help him. More than 500 persons have volunteered to donate blood.

Swedish-speaking nurses care for Nils around-the-clock. His hospital expenses are met by the Hartford Foundation.

Card and gifts pour into the hospital daily for the tousled, tawny-haired youngster, who asks his nurses morning and night "When can I go home?"

No date for the transplant has been set.

Before Nils came here he wanted to be an airlines pilot. Now, after watching television, he wants to be a cowboy.

Milton Eisenhower Ends Central American Tour

GUATEMALA (AP)—Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower winds up his Central American fact-finding tour today with the feeling his face-to-face talks have helped clear the air.

Eisenhower and the three U.S. economic experts in his party fly back to Washington Friday for a report to President Eisenhower.

State's Unemployment Total Drops 6,785 in Past Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The number of Ohioans collecting regular unemployment benefits dropped another 6,785 last week. Of that number, 4,407 exhausted their normal 26 weeks of benefits.

therefore, during the week was 2,378, a report of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC) indicated.

The number drawing regular benefits as of last Saturday was 165,174, the BUC reported.

The number of Ohioans collecting the first of their special 13-week benefits authorized by the Legislature stood last Saturday at 39,626. During the week, another 9,193 made their first applications for special benefits.

During the week ended July 19, applications were received from 44,244 who had exhausted their regular benefits, but the number who received special benefits last week dwindled to 39,626.

By major employment areas, these were the total of those receiving special benefit checks:

Akron 1,476, Canton 2,686, Cincinnati 1,851, Cleveland 9,345, Columbus 1,546, Dayton 2,032, Toledo 2,085, Youngstown 2,627.

Hussein's Plight

By RICHARD SPONG

British Paratroopers Are Guarding Jordan's King

Reports filtering through the strict censorship maintained in beleaguered Jordan tell of three successive waves of security arrests. The third is supposed to have followed the arrival of British paratroopers in mid-July at the request of King Hussein.

Radio Cairo has been calling on Palestinian Arabs in Jordan to "kill Hussein as you killed his grandfather." And in his address on Cairo's Independence Day (July 23), President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt shouted: "Hussein the tyrant has opened the gates of his country to the imperialist troops. There is treason in Jordan. Just as Iraq has rid itself of traitors, so will Jordan and Lebanon."

KING HUSSEIN, the 23-year-old monarch of Jordan, bolstered by U.S. arms and financial aid and protected by the British troops, is beset by enemies within his tiny nation as well as by those without. Jordan, slightly larger than the state of Indiana, has a population of about 1 1/2 million. Almost a million of these are Palestinian Arabs, including almost half a million restless Arab refugees who are the constant targets of Nasser's propaganda.

When Israel was created, King Abdullah, Hussein's grandfather, took over Arab parts of Palestine and with them the Palestinian Arabs. Abdullah, son of the Sherif of Mecca, a World War I ally of Great Britain, had been recognized by the British as ruler of Transjordan in 1921, founding the Hashemite dynasty in that state.

Winston Churchill is said to have wanted to give a throne to Abdullah, who had been driven out of the Kingdom of the Hejaz in Arabia by Ibn Saud.

Abdullah's subjects up until the Arab-Israeli war of 1948 — when Transjordan became plain Jordan — had been some 400,000, most of them fiercely loyal Bedouins. It is to these tribesmen that Hussein looks for his principal internal support today.

JORDAN HAS never had a viable economy. About 95 per cent of the land is desert, and revenue from oil pipelines is not nearly large enough to support the population. Great Britain subsidized Jordan for three decades at the rate of about 36 million dollars a year.

British influence in Jordan deteriorated rapidly after Hussein in March 1956 dismissed Gen. Sir John Bagot Glubb — Glubb Pasha — the British officer who had developed the Arab Legion and had served for 30 years as chief of staff of the Jordanian army.

The move reflected pressure from the Arab League, of which Jordan is a member.

During a subsequent orientation towards Egypt and Syria, Jordan's Arab neighbors — Saudi Arabia as well as the other two — were to pay 36 million dollars a year to replace the relinquished British subsidy.

Hussein reported, Nov. 13, 1956, that only Saudi Arabia had met its payments.

Hussein ousted pro-Egyptian elements in the army and government in April 1957. Then when Egypt and Syria formed the United Arab Republic last Feb. 1, Hussein countered within a fortnight by federating with Iraq, then ruled by his Hashemite cousin, King Faisal.

With Faisal's murder, Hussein technically became head of the Arab Federation. While British troops bolster Hussein, the United States shoulders the former British responsibility for subsidy. This country has poured in nearly 50 million dollars in the past year in a program carefully distinguished from the Eisenhower doctrine to respect Hussein's sensitivities.

Most to Say the Least

By TRUMAN TWILL

Everyone who follows the sports pages knows about Stengelese, a form of expression made famous by the colorful manager of the New York Yankees.

Sports writers, who also speak a strange language of their own device, love to quote "Ol' Case," which is one of their many names for a fellow who wouldn't be worth the attention he gets if it weren't for his being quoted and having nicknames and all . . . but let it go.

Stengelese, insofar as it lends itself to quotation, is nothing more unusual than the language of millions of Americans would be if they happened to be manager of the New York Yankees with dozens of quote-hungry baseball writers hanging on their shavvy syntax.

It is what you say a thing like that head-shrinker, fella what we brought up from KC might be called a flow of consciousness jabber if he thought of it when he was settling under them fly balls in the sun field which was not half so bad as when they turn on them lights, which is murder if you have not been eating carrots from which you get to see better after dark. . .

There is nothing tough about Stengelese. All you need is a recording device to take down the jumbled words and syntax violations. Ordinary Americans all do it without trying.

Not only do most of them put the spoken language together as haphazardly as Casey Sengel, who always has 13 reporters within earshot, but most of them are just as disorderly in their mishandling of the written language. The difference is that they are not the world-famed manager of the New York Yankees, with reporters hanging around to immortalize their bloopers.

Manager Stengel recently went to Washington to give a Senate committee the benefit of his ideas about exemption of baseball from antitrust laws. Actually, he went to give the committee he benefit of his publicity value. . . but let that go, too.

Everything he said was recorded for posterity, likewise the little that was said by Mickey Mantle, whose publicity value also was being exploited. A great fuss was made over this official outburst of pure Stengelese.

At one point in the hashed-up proceedings, one of the members of the host committee, John Carroll of Colorado, a lawyer like most members of Congress, set manager Stengel straight on the issue under discussion.

The whole point, said Sen. Carroll, was the disinclination of baseball owners to get out from under the subjection of the ipse dixit of the party of the first part, which was the federal government, hereinafter to be known as U.S.A., because of the ad damnum clause referring back to the Toolson case, which was sui generis and de minimum no curat lei.

But when you come right down to it, there's no language like Stengelese. It's the most to say the least.

Seaway Tolls Cut-Rate

By ALAN S. EMORY

The Panama Canal charges nearly 12 times what the St. Lawrence Seaway will to pass an empty ship through. At Suez the charges are seven times greater.

This is the kind of bait United States and Canadian Seaway experts are offering shippers to assure a rapid rise in use of the new Montreal-to-Toledo waterway.

Single-commodity traffic and ships with light cargo get a special break in Seaway toll charges and the sharp contrast with Panama and Suez will be a big talking point. Hearings on proposed St. Lawrence tolls open in Washington and in Ottawa Aug. 6.

Comparison between the three major world canals is a problem because cargo measurements differ and the types of vessels using the waterways also differ.

The big contrast between the Seaway and Suez and Panama is that the St. Lawrence does not penalize a partly filled ship. Suez and Panama charge according to the ship's earning capacity and if there is one item of cargo aboard the charge is the same as if it were loaded to the tops of the smokestacks.

On the Seaway the charge is a low rate for carrying capacity plus another for actual cargo carried, depending on the type.

If an ocean vessel went through the Seaway empty its toll would be only $475. At Panama the charge would be $5,544 at Suez $3,408.

According to E. Reece Harrill, assistant Seaway administrator, this rebates a ship engaged in carrying a single bulk commodity one way of a high cost of returning "in ballast," or empty of cargo.

It also, he noted, provides an inducement for ships to come into the Great Lakes if they are partly laden. This is important because many ocean-going vessels cannot transit the Seaway with a full load. The Seaway can accommodate ship drafts of only up to 25 1/2 feet.

The Seaway toll rate is 95 cents a ton of general cargo or 42 cents of bulk cargo actually carried, plus 6 cents a gross ton of carrying capacity. This compares with 30 cents a net ton of 100 cubic feet and 9 1/2 cents a net ton of useful capacity for Suez. In-ballast charges are six cents a gross registered ton for the Seaway, 72 cents a net ton at Panama and 44.4 cents a net ton at Suez.

Khrushchev Is in a Special Hurry

The sparring for advantage that began last December when Russia began to urge a summit conference which no other government wanted is continuing, despite what looks like a Russian triumph.

Premier Khrushchev's dramatic success in lining up a summit conference over the Middle East crisis and his shrewd decision to make the United Nations security council the conference scene, as proposed by President Eisenhower, has stepped up the pace of the sparring.

But there is going to be no sudden climax. If a summit meeting is held at all, it will be held in August, not July — and it might not be held until September.

In view of the obvious fact that Premier Khrushchev is in a hurry and no one else admits to any sense of urgency, he has everything to lose and nothing to gain by waiting.

Since he cannot hold a conference by himself and would not even want to hold a conference for any purpose but to add to Russia's prestige as a nation whose power must be reckoned with by all other nations, what looks like a triumph is shortly going to look like an addition to a series of frustrations.

THE WESTERN POWERS are in no hurry to concede that the Soviet Union is the nation they must sit down to talk with in their pursuit of collective security. They do not believe that is the case — not yet.

Least of all do they believe that coming events in the Middle East are going to prove it is the case. Mr. Khrushchev, himself, may share this belief, and it may be the reason he is in a hurry.

It is just as well educated a guess that he is angling for a position of power over pan-Arabism in the Middle East as that he already has the power and is angling for prestige as the recognized protector of President Nasser as the leader of pan-Arabism.

In this particular period of frenzied guesswork, there still are more things unknown about the Middle East than are known—and it is not known clearly that Nasser is Khrushchev's pawn, any more than it is clearly known that the new government of Iraq is stable, or that the existing government of Lebanon has the will or ability to get out of its political and religious entanglements in time to be "preserved" by U.S. intervention.

This is the reason everybody is in a special hurry, because everything seems to be subject to change without notice.

THE GAME is to get into a position to post the notice and thereby to control the change.

The secret weapon of those who mistrust people who are in a hurry is time—time for second thought, time for events to run their course, time for the unwary to hang themselves in their own rope.

In all probability, Mr. Khrushchev will have the chance he has sought to meet in a summit conference with the No. 1 politicians of other governments. But when the chance comes, they will have opinions as firm as his, and they will not talk from positions of weakness.

They are in no hurry. He is. Therefore, he will have to wait a little longer. They have the advantage.

Ted Williams

Ted Williams has been fined again for going through the motions of spitting at the baseball fans, this time in Kansas City, and we finally have figured out what makes him do it.

We did this by putting ourselves in Big Ted's place and figuring out what would make us go through the motions of spitting at the baseball fans. They are, after all, the people who would be paying our salary, which in Big Ted's case is no piddling item.

We learned by this simple psychiatric formula that he does it to show his independence of them and that the reason he wants to show his independence is because he does not think of himself as an entertainer but a baseball player — primarily a batsman.

Helping Each Other

Much thought and advance planning goes into the city's annual Community Chest campaign, which is still two months distant. That is why directors and officers met on a hot July night Monday to consider budgets of the 11 local "red feather" agencies and arrive at a $61,295 goal for the Oct. 6 to 12 campaign.

The goal is vital to the basic operating funds of the various organizations. Without these monies, which must come from public contribution, the worthy institutions would suffer and, collectively, the whole community would be given a setback. Fortunately, Salem citizens realize the importance of the Community Chest and will be ready to support it when campaign time rolls around next fall.

If sessions comes off it can go into history as biggest mistake out side ever made. How can it be a wise step to endure 85 votes from the Soviet in the U.N. and give an invitation to the Soviet chief of votes to step in for harmony and co-operation?

DICK NIXON is launching a "coffee-cup drive." He wants to emphasize importance of the "bean" if GOP is to win next election.

New York theatrical folks, football fan from all over country and New England tourists cheer the news that the Sheraton chain will build a modern hotel in New Haven. This city hasn't had a new hotel in half a century. The new hotel will have 300 rooms, roomy foyer and ample lounges.

The fellow who always calls up ahead and asks for help in getting tickets to the world series has phoned for two good seats to the Big Four session at U.N. He thinks it will be more exciting.

AN OSSINING, N.Y., golfer with a high handicap has gone to court to prevent the club handicap committee from cutting it down. Here is a case that will grip the interest of golf clubs all over America, each of which knows constant hassles over the members who don't play very well most of the time but are plenty hot in the club tournaments. They get 20 to 35 strokes as beginners and cherish them through the years.

The golfer in his action "prays the court to compute his handicap," insisting it should be in the thirties. (But suppose the judge who handles this case is a golfer who is operating under a high handicap, too.)

Russia's Propaganda Victory

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—This has been an almost weird seven months in high diplomacy. During most of that time — until now — it would have been hard to find anyone willing to bet a dime on a summit conference in 1958.

Now it seems assured. But at a price. The Soviets have scored a smashing propaganda victory by forcing the conference. The United States practically had to be dragged into it.

It remains to be seen — after the results are known — whether the conference turns out to be a farce and this country was right in its reluctance to meet with Premier Khrushchev.

There is no exact parallel in history for these past seven months.

They produced a shower of letters between President Eisenhower and Khrushchev, hair-splitting, and the kind of progress that never, until now, amounted to anything except one step forward and one step back. In short; nothing.

The Soviets started it last December with a letter to Eisenhower, proposing a meeting at the top. The administration thought it could brush it off by letting a press officer dismiss it as propaganda before the State Department released a translation of the Soviet note.

This cavalier treatment didn't work. Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles were quickly shaken out of that attitude by the reaction of American allies who wanted much more serious attention given the Soviet proposal.

Nevertheless, Eisenhower and Dulles dallied about answering it, giving the Soviets almost a solid month in which to parade before the world as unanswered peace-lovers.

And before Eisenhower finally got off his reply to the first Soviet note, the Soviets sent another. Even Dulles by then indicated the Soviets were beating us in propaganda. The administration decided to be a little quicker in the future.

Then began the rain of letters, with the Soviets urging haste an Eisenhower taking the position there should not be a summit meeting until there had been adequate preparation for it and all sides agreed thoroughly on what they'd discuss.

Without such preparation of course, a summit meeting could turn into a shooting gallery. But the whole idea seemed to collapse last month when the Soviets suddenly broke off negotiations with Western ambassadors in Moscow on preparations for a summit get-together.

They did this at a time when — for a reason still incomprehensible — they abruptly turned tough in all directions. For a time, they appeared not to care what the rest of the world thought. Whatever propaganda gains they had made were suddenly being thrown away.

But Khrushchev saw a new and golden chance to score on the West — and took advantage of it fast — when American troops were sent into Lebanon and British troops into Jordan at the request of the heads of government of both countries.

Khrushchev moved fast, but not in haste. The American troops went in July 15. Khrushchev waited until July 19 before issuing another call for a summit meeting, this time to avoid war in the Mideast.

Those few days' delay gave him time to see what world reaction was to the American move. It was far from universally good. Thus he was able to know for sure he was hitting a widely popular chord when he wrote his summit letter.

The Eisenhower administration still didn't want any part of sitting down with Khrushchev. But the British did. This left it up to Eisenhower to split with Britain or trail along behind her. He reluctantly agreed to a meeting.

But this meeting — perhaps within three weeks — will almost certainly be the kind Eisenhower never wanted: one without thorough preparation or agreement on what will be discussed.

Mental Hygiene Department Discloses Ohio Building Plans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, today disclosed plans for a long-range building program that would cost an estimated $141,230,000.

He would like to build a number of new mental institutions and add buildings to those already operating during a six-year period beginning July 1, 1960.

Winona-Butler Fire Station Site Set

WINONA — The site of the new Winona-Butler fire station will be on the lot, purchased from Mrs. John Lifer, on the north side of the present fire station on County Road 408 Whinnery Road, it was announced at a special meeting of the fire department members Monday night at the present fire station.

It also was reported that enough funds are available to start the construction of the new building. Plans call for a building large enough to hold two fire trucks, and the women's auxiliary food trailer, along with the installation of a large kitchen in the rear of the building for use of the auxiliary and to hold other meetings.

Fire department members and the women's auxiliary hope to raise additional funds with which to purchase extra equipment. The next fund-raising project is the Firemen's Peach Festival on Aug. 9, at the Winona Playground beginning at 5 p.m.

The women's auxiliary food trailer will also be at the Lisbon Fair this year.

Cincinnati Residents On Lookout for Burglar

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati police are going around ringing doorbells—to warn residents of a slick operating burglar.

Police Chief Stanley R. Schrotel and Lt. Ernest Taylor of the burglary squad said they believe the man is responsible for a series of burglaries over the last six weeks in which loot has totaled more than $15,000.

Officers say the man is about 40 years old.

Taylor said investigation indicates the man picks names at random from the phone book and calls. If someone answers he asks for some fictitious person. If there is no answer he goes to the house, rings the doorbell and if there still is no answer he then breaks in through a rear door.

'BANDWAGONS' N CAMPAIGN
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William Saxbe is going to put "bandwagons" on the road in his campaign for re-election. Saxbe said two tractor-trailer trucks carrying identical exhibits outlining Ohio history will tour the state starting Aug. 13.

HIT BY LIGHTNING
COSHOCTON, Ohio (AP)—Virgil Jennings, 23, of Rt. 2 Coshocton was killed Wednesday when hit by lightning while loading hay on a farm 13 miles northwest of here. His brother James, working with him, was stunned but not hospitalized.

Here and There In Our Town

By DONNA AGAN

Dash Lippert, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lippert of 916 Jones Drive, has spotted the latest U.S.-launched satellite now orbiting the earth.

Dash, a member of Scout Troop 89 who enjoys astronomy as a hobby, got up early Sunday morning and at almost 4 o'clock succeeded in watching the rocket as it passed many miles overhead. By lying on a backyard picnic table, the boy was able to scan the heavens on a clear night.

BEING A national champion is something rather special . . . whether it's national champion swimmer, golfer, cherry-pie baker, or speller. It means being Number One. We may not always admit it, but being "The Best" in something is a very normal human wish.

Salem has a national champion, the American Legion Quaker City Band. A group of around 70 people worked long and hard to earn that title . . . a title which must be defended! There are many graphic expressions in the King's English for a champion when he doesn't show up to defend his title. Even the best of excuses falls flat.

IN SPITE OF the odds and apathy facing the band, here are some of the things the men have been doing to maintain their high calibre: It was announced last year that for 1958 sight-reading music would become a part of the competition. So for a year now that's been a part of every band rehearsal. Sometimes the men wonder just where Director Chet Brautigam has found some of the music he's suddenly tossed in front of them!

And when it comes to the rigid inspections that each competing band must face, Salem's bandmen have tried to consider everything. They've bought uniform shoes which will be worn only on inspection. They've even bought the same brand and color of shoe polish!

ONE YEAR the inspectors gave a "gig" to Alex Simion because they discovered a wee grass seed lodged in Mr. Simion's snare drum . . . one point was taken off the score because someone didn't have a coat button sewed on "square." In Miami's competition, Mr. Brautigam received an absolutely perfect director's score, but the inspectors gave one demerit to him on the theory that nobody can be perfect! That's about as rough as a West Point inspection.

But that is the type of competition our champions have to face. They have to put their best foot forward, as well as put forth their very best music every minute they are in competition.

Going into national competition for these men is no picnic. It requires alertness and ability, and the type of endurance that only star performers in any field must have to stay on top.

The band needs $5,000 expense money to enter the national contest in Chicago the end of August. Finance Committee chairman R. S. McCulloch Sr., points out that if 10,000 Salem citizens donated 50 cents each, the band would be on its way.

COLLISION REPORTED

L. C. Walton of the Depot Rd. was unhurt but his wife, Helen, was injured slightly when their automobile was hit by a car driven by Harry Weikart of Rd 1, Salem, Thursday at 9 p.m. at the intersection of W. State St. and Sharp Ave., according to police reports.

Matthew Fontaine Maury often is called the "Pathfinder of the Seas." His works on navigation became the basis for all pilot charts issued by the U.S. Hydrographic Office.

Plane Crashes, Lorain Man Injured in Wreck

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—An Elyria pilot was slightly injured when his homemade airplane crashed Wednesday after stalling while attempting a landing at Lorain Airport, the State Highway Patrol reported.

Frank J. Stoler, 40, owner of the 1956 Corbin Baby Aid aircraft, suffered lacerations and contusions when the plane came down at the intersection of Ohio 58 and Mieser Road, the patrol said. He was treated at Lorain Hospital and released.

Damage to the plane was reported as moderate.

MEMBERS OF THE Salem Quota Club enjoyed a picnic dinner Tuesday evening at the cottage of Mrs. A. P. Morris of Sevakene Lake.

After a brief business meeting, Mrs. L. C. Messersmith, president, gave an account of the annual Quota Club International convention held recently in San Francisco. Delegates at the meeting endorsed local and national programs designed to aid in the prevention of juvenile delinquency and the exercise of greater care by broadcasting stations in preparing programs for children.

One of the speakers was Mrs. Phyllis Weber, the only woman scientist working on the Vanguard project at the Grand Central Rocket Co. in Redlands, Calif.

International officers elected were: Mrs. Margaretta Chaffin of Columbus, president; Miss Catherine A. Byrnes of Springfield, Mass., first vice president; Mrs. Anne G. Stillings of Richmond, Va., treasurer; and Mrs. Dorothy Patterson Sayre of Canton, board of directors.

The next meeting of the Salem club will be Aug. 26.

SIX MEMBERS of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church attended Woman's Society Day Tuesday at Camp Aldersgate at Leesville Lake. Those attending were Mrs. William Keck, Mrs. James Cunningham, Mrs. C. H. Waldron, Miss Nellie Pardee, Mrs. John Schuck, and Mrs. Harry Loria.

Mrs. Rollie Hohn of Canton was guest speaker, using as her theme "The Christian Home and Its Children." Mrs. Herbert Massey of East Palestine was in charge of arrangements with Mrs. William Snowball of Salem as music chairman.

MISSES BONNIE GETZ and Trina Loria represented the First Methodist Church at the Northeast Ohio Conference Girls School held at Lakeside last week.

The school was made up of 208 representatives plus the elected planning committee of four girls and the district Outreach chairman from the eight districts making up the conference.

Miss Sally Snowball served on the planning committee, and Miss Judy Safred is Outreach chairman for the Steubenville District. Miss Safred was elected as one of the four girls to be on next year's planning board.

The personnel in charge of the school included 21 adult counselors and 12 adult world friendship group leaders. Special interest groups included drama, prayer, music, and vocation, with a qualified instructor for each.

The girls presented a concert for the program of the Woman's Society of Christian Service Summer School. Mrs. Frank Stoudt and Miss Elenor McMurray of Salem attended the summer school.

The 11 guest speakers and resource persons included missionaries, deaconesses, field workers, and ministers.

Plans are under way to conduct a Girls School in connection with the Mount Union School of Missions held one week before the Lakeside School. The third school of missions will be held at the Bethesda Church the first week in August, with 100 girls enrolled in the Girls School.

MEMBERS OF Petrucci's baseball team of the Hot Stove League and their families were feted at a dinner party Tuesday evening at Petrucci's Restaurant.

The dinner was in honor of the team's first place rating in Class G play. Ted Beery is team manager.

Forty-seven guests were in attendance.

LORIN MILLER of North Jackson was guest speaker at the picnic meeting of the Trimble Class of the First Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening at Centennial Park.

Twenty-seven members and the guests enjoyed the covered dinner. Mr. Miller showed slides of Switzerland, Holland and Germany, countries he visited while in the service.

The committee for the evening consisted of Miss Mae Montgomery, chairman, Mrs. George Meiser, Mrs. Lee Vincent, Mrs. Helen Kenreigh and Miss Lucy Arner.

There will be no August meeting, the Sept. 30 meeting will be with Mrs. Clarence Ward of 816 N. Lincoln Ave.

FORTY-THREE descendants and friends of the Nelson J. and Elizabeth Judy family now residing in Ohio held their third annual reunion Sunday at Centennial Park.

Guests were present from Cleveland, North Olmstead, Bay Village, Kent, Youngstown, Struthers, Salem and Lisbon.

Officers for the coming year are: President, Mrs. Glenn Harding of Salem; vice president, Dr. C. O. Dietz of Struthers; and secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Robert Johnston of Youngstown.

Next year's gathering will be held the last Sunday in July at the park.

MRS. RICHARD BURSON of Martins Drive was hostess to the

Five Teams Tie in Event At Golf Club

The team play for 18-holes for members of the Women's Association of the Salem Golf Club resulted in a five-way tie Tuesday at the club.

Members of the winning teams are: One, Mrs. George Perrault, Mrs. Kenneth Meyer, Mrs. William Stevenson.

Two, Mrs. John Gonda, Mrs. Jack Sekely, Mrs. Wentz Alspaugh.

Three, Mrs. Edward Pukalski, Mrs. Lozier Caplan, Mrs. Glenn Broomall.

Four, Mrs. Herman Enemark, Mrs. Albert White, Mrs. Tom Palisin.

Five, Mrs. Steve Grubish, Mrs. Harold Hoprich and Mrs. Leon Colley.

First place low net in nine hole play went to Mrs. James Moorehead; second, Mrs. Clarence Hartough; third, Mrs. Del Smith.

Thursday, 12 women from Salem Golf Club attended the invitational event at East Liverpool Country Club. The following won prizes: Olive Ramsey tied low gross for the field with Mrs. Richard Moninger of the East Liverpool Club.

Low gross for B-Flight and low putts honors also went to Olive Ramsey.

Low net for A-flight went to Mrs. John Gonda; low net for B flight, Mrs. Hoprich; low net for C flight, Mrs. Frank Brian; low net for D flight, Mrs. Robert Maurer.

A buffet luncheon was served. Tuesday, the association will hold a luncheon at 1 p.m. The 18-hole qualifying round for the club championship will start at 8:30 a.m. All other play will consist of nine holes starting at 8:50 a.m.

Miss Patricia Burger To Wed David Bush

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Burger of 401 Ash St. announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Patricia Elaine, to David Lee Bush, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Bush of 746 E. Third St.

The marriage will take place on Sept. 14 at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church. Custom of open church will be observed. A reception in Fellowship Hall of the church will immediately follow the wedding ceremony.

Miss Burger, a 1957 graduate of Salem High School, is employed as a secretary by the Hunston and Atkinson law firm.

Mr. Bush graduated from Salem High School in 1954 and is now a student at Kent State University.

Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation had freed the slaves of the South; the Thirteenth Amendment completed the job by freeing the slaves of the North.

Lisbon Area Couple Married 25 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sloss of Lisbon RD will observe their 25th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon and evening with open house from 2 to 8 p.m. at their home.

Dora Helman Bailey and Arthur Sloss were married Aug. 2, 1933 at New Cumberland, W. a., by the Rev. Ivan Howland.

Mrs. Sloss is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dan Helman, and Mr. Sloss, a son of the late Mrs. Mame Figley.

Arrangements are being made by their daughters, Mrs. Paul Davner and Mrs. Ross DeSelle.

Hawaii's silversword plant, one of the rarest plants in the world, is a member of the cactus family. Growing in the lava in the crater of Haleakala volcano, its thin leaves are covered with silvery-hued matting. The plant sends up a spire of purple and yellow blossoms, often 10 feet in height.

FOR DEEP MIDSUMMER wear, nothing is as pretty as jewelry that flashes with icy crystals. These designs by L. gina were intended to add sparkle to crepes and silks, linens and prints. Bib (left) is refreshing combination of water-thin porcelain beads and crystal roundels. It's shown here in white but comes in pastel colors and black, too. Garlands of flower-colored crystals (right) set off a wide, curving neckline to best advantage.—By GAIL DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

Questions and Answers

Unfortunately, there are a lot of health questions for which there is as yet no really good answer. Today's first query is an example.

Q — Please say something about brown patches on the skin. I am 39 and have them on my face, especially around the forehead and neck. What causes them and is there a treatment?

A — This is a common complaint. Most of these patches go under the name of chloasma, which is a term used to cover various pigment changes in the skin of a yellowish-brown nature. Some are apparently related to the sex glands and some have been called "liver spots" though this is probably wrong.

It is claimed that some of these brownish patches can be lightened by the application of a chemical. But this must be used with caution, since it may irritate the skin if used too often or too freely.

Q — I am drowsy all day and can't sleep at night. What can I do?

A — If you do not sleep at night it is not surprising that you are drowsy during the day. Perhaps you can reverse the habit by getting your physician to give you a sleeping pill one or two nights.

Q — Please say something about a hairy tongue.

A — This is a peculiar condition characterized by a discoloration of the tongue with hair-like growth on the upper surface. In many cases it is discovered by accident and is not associated with unpleasant symptoms.

There is controversy about the cause, but it has been found in association with the taking of various antibiotics and sulfa preparations, particularly when in the form of lozenges.

Treatment is aimed at clearing away the growth and, of course, stopping the use of an offending drug, if that is the cause.

Q — How can one go about obtaining reliable information on sex education for children, and for those in adolescence or approaching marriage?

A — There are a number of excellent books in this field. The American Medical Association (535 North Dearborn St., Chicago 10, Ill.) has published a series of pamphlets on this subject costing 50 cents each.

One is for parents of young children of pre-school and early school age; another for children in grades four to six; another for boys and girls of about junior high school age; a fourth for young people from 16 to 20, and the last for grownups who have responsibility for sex education.

Winona Methodist Church Picnic Set For Friday Night

WINONA — The Methodist Sunday school picnic will be held at 7 p.m. Friday evening at the North pavilion at Centennial Park in Salem.

Esther Cope is chairman of the table committee. The older youth class will have charge of the recreation. If transportation is needed call either Gilmer Coffee or Rev. Hubert Adey.

Mrs. Cora Cope spent the day Sunday with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fultz. Mr. and Mrs. William Gilbert attended a reunion at Centennial Park Sunday.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department plan to take the lunch trailer to the Crawford Brantingham sale Saturday.

Rev. Lesley Burbick of Salem was guest speaker at the morning and evening services of the Friends Church Sunday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Rummel of RD 1, Salem at the Central Clinic July 23.

Mrs. Hattie Hegeman and son Edward of Hoboken, N.J., their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lemie Brandt of New Bergen, N.J., visited Mr. and Mrs. James Holmes and other relatives here last week.

The Christ Mission truck will solicit in this community beginning Aug. 25. Call Mrs. A. G. Oliphant or Mrs. Larkin Hadley.

Mrs. Paul Porteous of Fairbury, Ill. who has been visiting her husband at Cresson Sanitarium, Cresson, Pa., is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ruble, Mrs. Cora Cope, Mr. and Mrs. William Gilbert and other friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Johnson and son Dick have returned from a two weeks vacation at Campbellford, Ontario, Canada.

REALLY KING-SIZED!
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A cigarette vending machine here sold a man a package of king-sized filters. Due to a factory slip-up, the package contained 20 long filters, no tobacco.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

(Written for NEA Service)

A paper napkin may not seem like a very durable item in our daily life. However, this humble article serves a very significant purpose. In its insignificant way it makes for cleaner living. It protects our clothing from accidental little spots. It cleans a sticky bit of food from our lips and from our fingers. It blots the drops of coffee which have spilled into the saucer.

Many of us overlook the significance of little benefits. We forget that a little word of appreciation may set in motion a long chain of thoughts, attitudes and events. This set of reactions once started may create a whole community of love. Overlooked, it may permit the opposite.

Jesus' little command, "Love thy neighbor," ought to be observed. It is more important than a paper napkin, yet we often give it no more thought than we give to the commonplace.

Indianapolis Executive Shot to Death in Auto

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Forrest Teel, 54, executive vice president of the huge Eli Lilly & Co., drug firm, was found shot to death early today in his parked Cadillac along a street in northeast Indianapolis.

The drug executive's car had rammed a utility pole and come to a stop, and police said his foot apparently stuck on the accelerator when he was shot in the neck and left side.

Witnesses said they saw another Cadillac carrying two men parked beside Teel's auto moments before.

COUNTYWIDE REGISTRATION
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Allen County has become the 23rd county in Ohio to require countywide registration of voters, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown announced.

East Liverpool Driver Is Sued for $55,000

LISBON — Two suits totaling $55,000 were filed in Common Pleas Court Wednesday by William Boyd, father of Belva Boyd of East Liverpool RD 2, as the result of an auto-pedestrian mishap.

Otis McFadden of East Liverpool RD 2, is the defendant.

Belva Boyd seeks $50,000 claiming she sustained permanent injuries after being struck by a car driven by the defendant June 5, 1957 on St. Clair Township Road 1040. Her father asks $5,000 for hospital expenses and loss of her services.

COLUMBIANA

Kaiser Chemical Co. Makes Steel Mill Mix

COLUMBIANA — A new basic refractory gunning mix for use in steel furnaces has been developed by the Kaiser Chemicals Division, Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp., and is currently being produced at the Columbiana plant.

The mix, marketed under the name of K-R 95, is a highly refractory chrome-pericase mix designed for use with the KR Gunning System for either hot or cold maintenance of back and front walls of open hearths and the sidewalls of electric arc furnaces.

Because of its neutral characteristics, K-R 95 is highly resistant to iron oxides and can be used safely on top of basic brick or adjacent to acid bricks, particularly in skewback areas. For hot repairs, K-R 95 is designed to balance furnace life where trouble spots develop.

In The Service

Pfc. James L. Starkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Starkey, 185 E. Main St., Salineville, recently qualified as expert in firing the M-1 rifle in Schweinfurt, Germany.

Starkey, a mail clerk in Company B of the 3rd Division's 30th Infantry, entered the Army in September 1957, completed basic training at Fort Benning, Ga., and arrived in Europe in March 1958.

The 24-year-old soldier was graduated from Salineville High School in 1952 and was employed at the Post Office in Salineville.

William A. Ward, CT-2, USN, is spending a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward of 534 Reilly Ave.

Mr. Ward has spent the past two years in Japan where he was stationed with the Naval Communication Facilities at Yokusuka.

After this leave he has orders for communication duty at Adak, Alaska.

Ward, a 1953 graduate of Salem High School, attended Ohio State University before entering service.

Applied in cold maintenance work, the product hardens into a dense homogenous mass and is particularly adapted for resurfacing areas over old brick.

BOND FORFEITURES and fines totaling $115 resulted from eight recent cases handled through the local Mayor's Court. Six cases involved traffic violations.

Mayor Erwood L. Calvin fined John W. Porter of the Middleton Rd. and David K. Kennedy of Youngstown $15 each on similar charges of disturbing the peace. They were arrested by village police after creating a disturbance in the business section.

Other local cases, both charging motorists with violation of the village muffler ordinance, included: Paul R. Sevenich of Leetonia and Gary E. Graham of RD 2, Leetonia. Each forfeited bond of $10. State Highway Patrol Cases:

LEROY M. HOUGH JR. of Salem, reckless operation, forfeited bond of $25; George F. Fullerton of East Liverpool, crashing red light, forfeited bond of $15; Thomas McCain of Ashtabula, crossing over yellow line, fined $10 and costs; Joseph F. Figole of Pittsburgh, reckless operation, forfeited bond of $15.

The 45th annual Lehman reunion will be held at 12:30 p.m. Aug. 9 at Pavilion 2 in Firestone Park. Ivan Lehman of RD 2, Columbiana, is president of the reunion group.

Annual picnic of the Salem Women's Bowling Association which numbers more than 500 members in this section of the county, will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at Pavilion 3 in Firestone Park. Entertainment will follow the covered dish supper. Coffee and rolls will be furnished. Mrs. Marian McCarthy is table chairman and Mrs. Delores Stockman has charge of entertainment.

Ohio Family Suffers From Malnutrition

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Even in America, in this day and age, it can happen—a family slowly starving because of no money to buy food.

Such is the situation that befell a family of 10 from nearby Jackson Twp., Franklin County sheriff's deputies reported.

Mrs. Agnes Arnold, 38, and her nine children, ranging in age from 3 to 18, had been living on only bread and green beans raised in a small garden since their $248 relief money ran out several days ago, deputies said.

The sheriff's office learned of the family's plight Wednesday after neighbors called the Jackson Twp. emergency squad to report that Raymond Arnold, 15, was having fainting spells. Hospital attendants said later that he was suffering from malnutrition.

Sheriff's Lt. Al Huff said deputies were touched by the plight of the fatherless family—the father disappeared two years ago—and so opened their hearts and the county jail pantry to deliver them food.

Huff said potatoes, bacon, beans, onions, milk, bologna, cabbage and bread were given the stricken family "to tide them over until the welfare department can take over."

"We couldn't let them go hungry," he said.

FORFEITS BOND IN LISBON LISBON — James L. Amelung, 19, of Kensington RD 1, forfeited a $10 bond Wednesday in County Judge Samuel Crawford's court when he failed to appear on a charge of failing to signal a left hand turn. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

4-H Club News

R.F.D. Daughters

The ninth meeting of the R.F.D. Daughters 4-H Club was held recently at the home of Carla Reynolds of Sebring.

After Kathy Kile opened the meeting, the girls answered the roll call with each naming "A Remedy for Tardiness."

It was announced that Project Visiting Day is set for Aug. 7; and the "fun trip" is planned for Aug. 6.

The 4-H fair booth was also discussed during the business session.

Demonstrations were given by Alice Clay on plant sprays; by Carla Reynolds on flower arrangements; and by Edith Springer on planting flower seeds.

Linda Stowe won the attendance prize.

The next meeting will be at the home of Marianne Vandenburg on Rt. 165.

Nimble Thimble

A mother's tea and style show were planned for Aug. 7 at 8 p.m. at Goshen Grange Hall when the Nimble Thimble 4-H Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Lois Schaefer of Ellsworth Road.

Roll Call was answered by the number of years each member had been in 4-H.

Committees for the tea are: Invitations, Carol Luce, chairman, Judy Starbuck, Lois Schaefer, Susan Mathews, Ruth McCormick; decorations, Mary Jane Mathews, chairman, Ann Stanley, Barbara Breihl, Francine Evans, Janet Wagmiller.

Entertainment, Joyce Edgerton, chairman, Joyce Calvin, Nancy Jensen, Joanne Rea; refreshments, Ann Stanley, chairman, Kay Luce, Nelda Stanley and Mary Jane Mathews.

A demonstration was given by Carol Luce on how to plan dress colors to complement individual coloring and figures.

A committee consisting of Carol Luce, chairman, Mary Jane Mathews, Janet Wagmiller, Barbara Breihl, Francine Evans and Ann Stanley, were named to formulate ideas for the annual club activity day. Judging of the clothing projects will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at Goshen Grange Hall.

60 seconds later, you flip open your Polaroid Land camera and pull out a sharp duplicate print! It's that easy! And it means that everybody in the picture can get his own copy right then and there. Available for all Polar

O'Neill, DiSalle Continue Talks

Pair Campaigning 52 Miles Apart

By The Associated Press—Ohio's gubernatorial adversaries concluded Wednesday's campaign activities with speeches in towns just 52 miles apart.

Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill staged his eighth in a series of Governor's Day picnics at Lakewood Beach near Urbana.

Michael V. DiSalle, the Democratic candidate, ended an all-day tour of the Eighth Congressional District, in Marion.

O'Neill's picnic was much the same as previous ones, but DiSalle made a new attack—this one on the O'Neill administration's handling of civil service employees.

The Toledo Democrat said the governor has acted in "a clear violation of the spirit" of civil service laws and has had a callous attitude toward the rights of civil service workers.

He said O'Neill forced civil service employees to buy $10 tickets to the O'Neill pre-primary election dinner and of engaging in political activities in violation of state laws.

DiSalle added that he plans to announce shortly his own program "to give real meaning to the civil service."

He declared that civil service "should give a sense of belonging and security to make state service a status in life which will be sought after, rather than something to be used when everything else has failed."

Before his dinner address in Marion, DiSalle spoke in Tiffin, Upper Sandusky, Mount Gilead, Bucyrus, Findlay and Kenton.

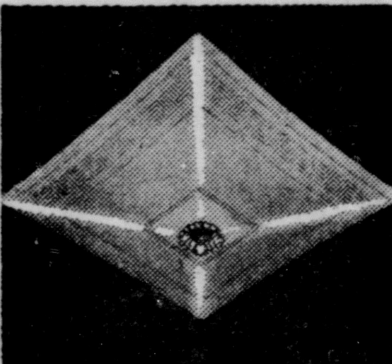

The O'Neill picnic attracted between 7,500 and 8,500 persons.

The governor, following previous picnic patterns, shook hands for nearly three hours. It was estimated that 4,500 persons were greeted by the governor and had their pictures taken with him.

Newsman estimated that only about 2,000 were on hand, however, when O'Neill and other Republican state candidates spoke.

Father, Daughter O.K. After Surgery

CLEVELAND (AP)—Father and daughter are doing well "at St. Luke's Hospital."

The father is Norman Wiebusch of Warren, who gave a part of his pelvic bone in the hope that a deformity might be corrected in the right arm of his daughter, Holly.

Doctors had warned Wiebusch, vice president of the Bayless-Kerr advertising agency, he might be permanently affected by the operation. A piece of Wiebusch's right iliac bone the size of a pencil was grafted on Holly's arm Saturday.

Marked Wiebusch: "This made me prouder than anything I've ever done. If I have a limp because of it, it's a small price to pay for Holly to have a good arm."

Tests made previously had indicated that either Wiebusch or his wife Marjorie, could have furnished the bone pieces for Holly. They decided Wiebusch was the logical one because he could go to his office and sit while recovering from the operation. Mrs. Wiebusch has five other children besides Holly to care for.

Holly's deformity stemmed from an attack of osteomyelitis, which developed three years ago.

Treatment with antibiotics had some beneficial effect, but when the girl's wrist started turning in, doctors advised the operation.

DROWNS IN CREEK

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Thomas L. Cope, 36, of Greenfield, drowned Wednesday after going in Paint Creek for a swim with several other persons, the Ross County Sheriff's Office reported. It happened just inside the Ross County line, three-quarters of a mile north of Greenfield in neighboring Highland County.

California Housewife Accidentally Shoots Son

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—A mother accidentally shot and killed her 23-year-old son as they practiced fast draws against each other in their home, the sheriff's office said Wednesday night.

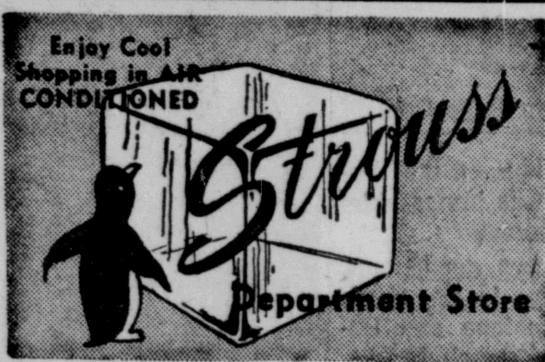

Deputies said Mrs. Dorothy Clayton, 45, and her son, James, an airman at nearby March Air Force Base, were seeing who could outdraw each other with .22 revolvers. They thought the guns were unloaded.

On the third draw the gun fired as Mrs. Clayton pulled the trigger and her son fell dead with a bullet near the heart.

Department Hopes to Get Two-Way Radio System

Green Township Firemen's Festival Set

Green Township volunteer firemen, a group of 51, a year "employees" of the township, will hold their 14th annual festival Saturday evening on the Greenford school lawn.

Proceeds of the event will help the fire fighters purchase a two-way radio system for the department, providing a quick means of communication when more help is needed, Chief Burt Schaffer points out.

The Greenford department has 41 members. Their new truck, which has a high-pressure fog pumping unit, carries 500 gallons of water, along with an auxiliary light plant, air pack masks, and a portable pump.

This unit, teamed with the older tankers and pumps, will provide more efficient fire protection for residents in areas of the township where water supplies are limited.

The festival Saturday will start at 4:30. A varied program of entertainment is planned.

Meanwhile, the United States, Britain and France were trying to reach a common understanding on their replies to Khrushchev's latest note about a summit meeting.

Eisenhower was reported sticking firmly to his view that any such meeting to deal with the Middle East crisis must be held as an extraordinary session of the U.N. Security Council.

road National Bloc who had tried without success to negotiate a political peace earlier, was the only candidate opposing Shehab. He had claimed control of at least a third of Parliament's votes, but observers never expected him to come close to election.

By agreement in this half-Christian, half-Muslim nation of 1½ million people, the president is a Christian and the Premier is a Moslem to maintain a balance between the religions. Shehab belongs to the Maronite sect of the Roman Catholic Church but is respected by both religious groups. He could use the title "prince" as a descendant of a heroic family that ruled Lebanon for the Ottoman Turks in the 19th century.

The general has been a military man all his life and was reluctant to be a candidate for the presidency, believing that soldiers should stay out of politics. He was educated in French military schools when France held a League of Nations mandate over Lebanon. He married the daughter of a French officer.

He was promoted to general in 1943 and two years later took command of the Lebanese army. During a political dispute in September 1952 before Chamoun became president, the general briefly was a caretaker premier and for three days was president. There seemed little likelihood that increased steel prices would result in an immediate increase in the prices of cars and appliances such as stoves and refrigerators. Manufacturers of these items have steel on hand that was purchased under current prices, and they hesitate raising prices when sales are slow.

108 X-Rays Are Taken By State Mobile Unit

LISBON — A total of 108 chest X-rays were taken Wednesday by the Ohio Department of Health's mobile X-ray cruiser, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Sixty-one X-rays were taken at the Lutheran Church at North Georgetown and 47 at the W. B. Harsh Feed Mill at East Rochester.

The schedule called for a stop at the Methodist Church in East Rochester but the unit could not be provided with electricity here so the feed mill site was used.

The mobile unit was stationed at the County Home this morning. It was scheduled at the Berg Pretzel Co., Leetonia from 1 to 3 p.m. and will be at the square in Leetonia from 3:30 to 5 and 6 to 9 p.m. This is the last day of the unit's county tour. County persons assisting X-ray personnel are Mrs. Mary Alice Rumberger, county health nurse; clerks Mrs. C. L. Bailey and Mrs. Raymond Glauser of the County Health Department and Miss Phyllis Hadley, clerk in the office of the Columbiana County Public Health League.

Salem Receives Award For Auto-Safety Check

Salem was granted an award of excellence recently for its participation in the fifth annual National Vehicle - Safety Check for Communities sponsored by the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee and Look magazine, in cooperation with the Association of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators.

The state of Ohio led the nation in the number of awards received for its vehicle safety-check programs among the 34 states that participated which do not have laws requiring official motor vehicle inspections.

POLICEMAN FAINTS AFTER KILLING GUNMAN—Police attend fellow officer Edward T. Ottinger, 23, who fainted after he fatally shot Vidal Leoncio, 34, at Broadway and 148th St. in New York City. Leoncio opened fire at Ottinger sought to break up an argument. Leoncio's gun misfired three times, but Ottinger's service revolver sent three slugs into the gunman. The slain man was arguing with a woman who disappeared during the shooting. This exclusive New York Daily News picture was made by Jerry Becker, truck driver, whose hobby is photography. He made it from his apartment window.

Deaths, Funerals

Miss Pearl Heiser

BERLIN CENTER — Miss Pearl L. Heiser, 71, a practical nurse who retired in January, died at Alliance City Hospital at 1:15 a.m. today after an illness of three months.

Born in Berlin Center, Aug. 26, 1886, she was a daughter of the late Solomon and Minnie Shively Heiser.

She was a member of the Union Ave. Methodist Church and the Eastern Star, both of Alliance.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. F. F. Obenauf of Berlin Center; two brothers, Harold A. Heiser of Berlin Center and Wilbur S. of Alliance.

Funeral service will be Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Cassaday and Turkle Funeral Home in Alliance. The Rev. Richard Hettish will officiate.

Burial will be in the Eckis Cemetery in Milton Township. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Grant Warner

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Clara M. Warner, 88, died at 1:45 a.m. Wednesday at the Gregg Nursing Home near Salem, where she had resided the past five years.

Born in North Lima, Aug. 12, 1869, she was the daughter of Samuel and Harriet Werner Stafford. Her husband, Grant Warner, died in 1920.

A resident here many years, she was a member of the Mt. Olivet Evangelical and Reformed Church of North Lima.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Emerson Bush of RD 1, Columbiana; a son, Leonard Warner of Leetonia; and two sisters, Mrs. Minerva Garman of West Middlesex, Pa., and Miss Hattie Stafford of North Lima.

Services will be Friday at 2 p.m. at the Fry Funeral Home here, with the Rev. Lawrence Duncann, pastor of the Mt. Olivet Church, officiating. Burial will be in North Lima Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening from 7 to 9.

Square road. A bridge on the Teogarden Road also was impassable. Other Highways Awash

The county highway department said other highways in the areas of Leetonia, Columbiana and Unity Township were awash in sections but that no other roads were closed.

The Depot Road, midway between Salem and Guilford Lake, was bumper-deep in water in four places early today. Persons driving to jobs in Salem this morning were able to get through, however.

In Salem, about two feet of water covered the intersection of Prospect St. and Newgarden Ave. Other streets in town were temporarily flooded but passable.

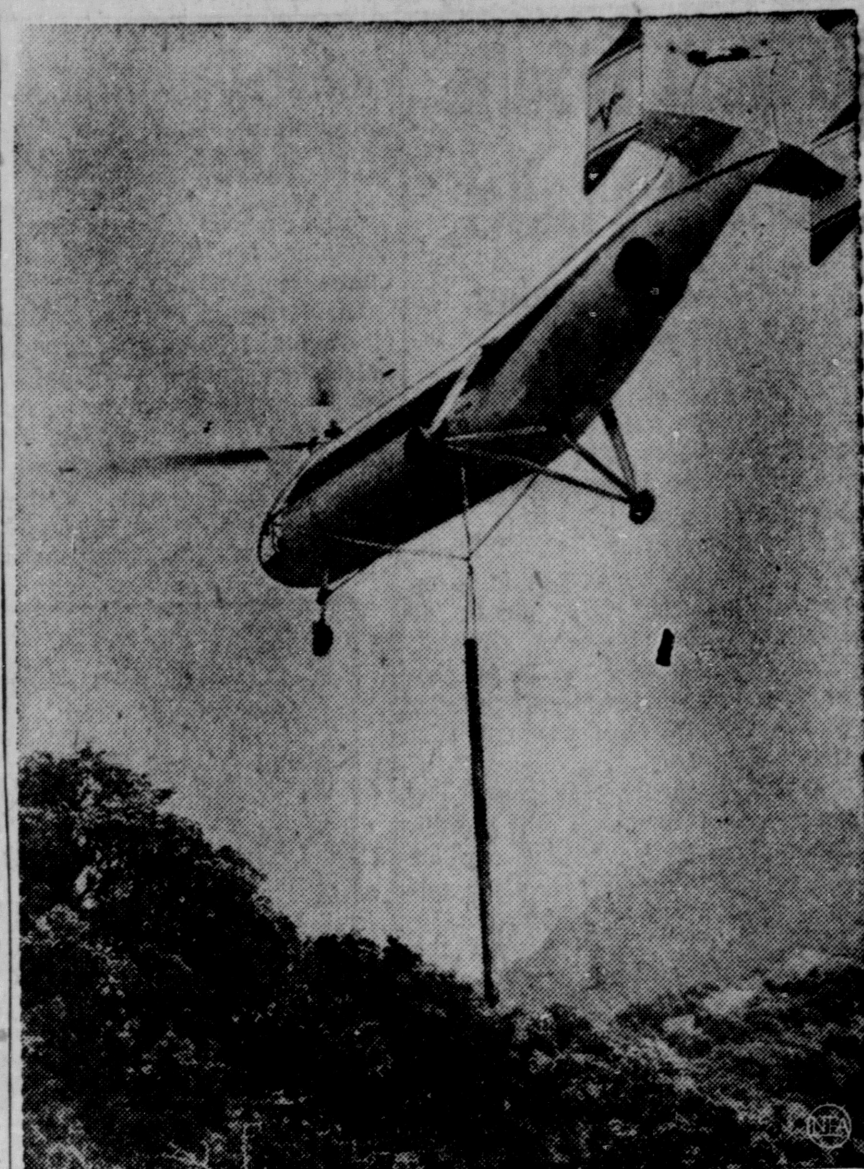

But overshadowing all the inconveniences and disruptions caused by the weather are the mounting crop losses faced by county farmers.

The frequent storms have seriously aggravated the harvest problem. Wheat, oats and barley are ripe but still standing in fields too sodden to permit reaping. Some damages also have been caused to corn crops.

Some Areas Benefitted
In some areas of the county, however, the rain has benefitted farmers. Oats and hay have been flattened here and there by rain in the Hanoverton area, Copeland said, but the corn crop is two to three times as large here as last year.

Pastures are as luxuriant as in May, Copeland said. Usually pastures are turning brown and farm animals are put on supplemental feeding at this time of year, he said.

But despite the benefits resulting from the rain, farmers are praying that the saturated soil is given a respite to permit reaping of crops soon. A prolonged spell ly plans a court test if the election board refuses him a ballot place.

Meanwhile, Luther Donbar of Columbiana, another incumbent county judge, filed Wednesday for a new term. The third incumbent, John Fitch of Lisbon, also is expected to be a candidate.

Previously, Earl Spalding, a former Unity Township justice of the peace, entered for one of the posts, and Atty. J. L. MacDonald, former prosecuting attorney, announced he would be a candidate. Two other prospective candidates are in sight. Wade Loop of Salem and Sam Jones, a former Madison Township Justice of the Peace.

gaze at a cage with eight leopards. She returned in time to witness the attack.

"There were no ropes or any body around the cage when the kids walked up to it. I just saw this paw come out and catch the little girl. Then I heard her scream. It was terrible. I froze. The other children were crying."

"The thing tore her shoe off. She was conscious all the time. A man came running when he heard Patricia scream, but he had to run 300 feet. He tried to beat the cats off from outside the cage, but couldn't. Then another man ran up, went inside the cage and drove the cats away by beating them over the head with a chair."

Police later identified the first man as Jack Mann, an attendant. Animal trainer Jack Harkness entered the cage and fended off the beasts.

Russell Shuts Out Old Dutch 2-0 On Three Hitter

Duko, Tucker Pace Scotts

Herrons, Lisbon Also Win Tourney Games

Wayne "Muscles" Russell, a former Bliss pitching whiz in the 1940s, came out of semi-retirement and hurled a three-hit, 2-0 victory for Scott's Candy over Old Dutch in Columbiana County softball tourney action Wednesday night at Kelly Field.

In two other contests, Leo Kline pitched four - hit ball as Herron Transfer nipped the Friends Church 2-1 and John Clendenning did the same for Lisbon in their 3-2 decision over Kenmar Furniture.

Scotts scored a single tally in both the fourth and seventh inning to notch their win.

Jim Barnes crossed the plate in the fourth when he scored all the way from first on an overthrow after beating out an infield single.

Dick Wyss' triple and a single by Ed Duko provided the winners with their second score.

Bill Buckman was the losing pitcher being touched for eight hits, three by Duko and two by Joe Tucker.

Herrons grabbed a 2-0 lead over Friends and held on to advance in the loser's bracket.

Benny Roelen's single, a sacrifice by George Alec and a single by Jim Cosgarea gave Herrons one run. Their second came on a single by Ed Weber, an error and Jack Halderman's rap into left center.

The losers tallied in the sixth frame when Jim Kelly tripled to right center and later scored on a bad relay back to the infield.

L. B. Fletcher was tagged with the defeat although Chuck Bancroft pitched two scoreless innings in relief.

Lisbon took a 2-0 lead and then broke a 2-2 tie with a single run in the bottom of the third.

Each team collected but four hits. Chuck Reesh was charged with the loss.

Spahn Beats Bums First Time In Seven Years; Matthews Hits Homer

By The Associated Press

Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's brilliant southpaw, can look his critics right in the eye today. He has proved he can beat the Dodgers.

After seven years of frustration, the 37-year-old lefthander hurled Milwaukee to a 4-3 victory Wednesday night over Los Angeles that put the Braves back into first place.

It was his first triumph against the Dodgers since Sept. 23, 1951. They've beaten him eight times since then.

Cincinnati, behind Bob Purkey, dumped the Giants into second place with a 5-1 victory. Pittsburgh climbed to the .500 mark with a 7-1 triumph over Chicago in a game limited to 7½ innings by rain. Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 5-1.

Kansas City made it two in a row over New York in the American League, defeating the Yankees 2-0 in a game cut to 4½ innings by rain. Chicago climbed into a third-place tie with Baltimore, defeating Washington 11-9 as Cleveland was drubbed the Orioles 6-3. Detroit nipped Boston 2-1.

Felix Mantilla and Eddie Mathews drove in all Milwaukee runs against loser Sandy Koufax. Mantilla drove in the first three runs with a homerun. Matthews homer, his 21st, came in the eighth and snapped a 3-3 tie.

Purkey allowed the Giants only five hits and drove in two runs in gaining his 13th victory. Walt Drope and Pete Whisenant hom-

Tribe Cops 4th Straight With 6-3 Win Over Baltimore

Narleski Gets Credit For 11th

Mudcat Grant Hurls Three Hitless Frames

CLEVELAND (AP)—A victory over the Baltimore Orioles today would make July the winningest month for the Cleveland Indians this season. It also would extend the Tribe winning streak to five straight—longest yet during the 1958 campaign.

The Indians won their 14th game of the month Wednesday night, coming from behind for a 6-3 triumph. They also have lost 14. In May, Cleveland won 14 and lost 15.

The Tribe has won four straight several times this season but never has been able to get over that barrier. As the Indians reached the 100-game mark on the schedule, they posted their 48th victory.

Ray Narleski, tagged for three runs in the six innings he pitched, was given credit for his 11th victory against eight defeats when the Tribe came up with four runs in the sixth and added two more in the seventh.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant hurred three scoreless innings in relief, yielding only a harmless eighth inning single.

The Orioles scored all their runs in the third inning off Narleski on singles by Willie Miranda and Al Pilarcik and Bo's Nieman's ninth homer.

With Arnold Portocarrero breezing along in quest of his seventh straight victory the Orioles looked in fine shape. The big righthander blanked Cleveland without a hit until Mickey Vernon sliced a double to left field with one out in the fifth. He died, there, how ever.

But in the sixth the Baltimore infield went into a "comedy of errors" routine, making three wild throws, two by third baseman Brooks Robinson. The Indians added four hits to the mixture and came up with four runs.

Here's how it happened:

Bobby Avila, pinch-hitting for Narleski, bounced a single off second baseman Billy Gardner's glove. Larry Doby was sent up to hit for Billy Harrell and responded with a drive off the left field fence, scoring Avila.

Gary Geiger dribbled a roller along the third base line and beat it out as Doby stuck to third. When Robinson made a wild peg to first, Doby came home and Geiger moved to second.

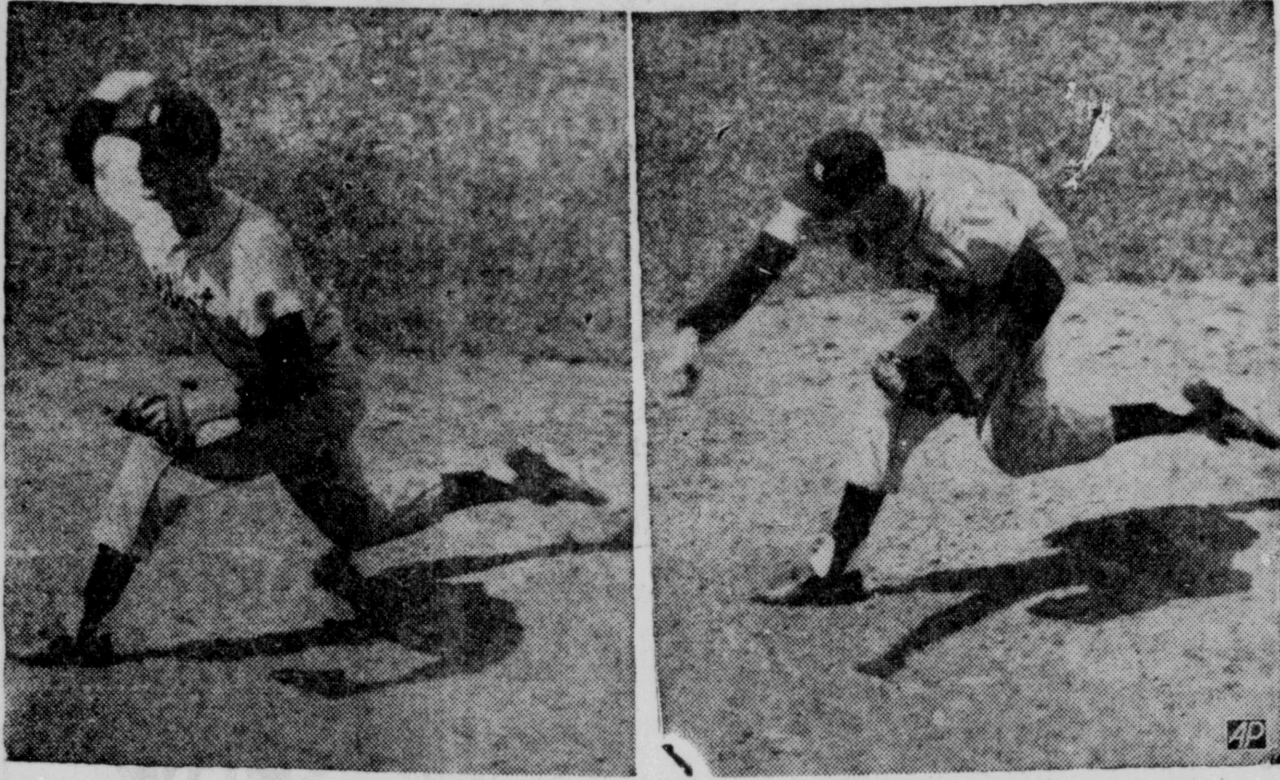

Vic Power bounced to short and Miranda threw to third to try and get Geiger. The ball struck the sliding Geiger in the back and rolled to the stands. Geiger picked himself up and sped for the plate. When Robinson recovered the ball, he threw the ball over catcher Gus Triandos' head. Geiger scored easily and Doby went to third.

Fight Results

By The Associated Press
Boise, Idaho—Sailor Dale Manz, 158½, Boise, knocked out Dick Lane, 160, Boise, 7.
New York—Spider Webb, 162½, Chicago, stopped Franz Szuzina, 161½, Germany, 7.

Castoffs Come Back To Haunt Former Mates In Junior Loop

By The Associated Press
There it is again. Shunted players coming back to haunt you. It happened on three occasions Wednesday.

In Kansas City, pitcher Bob Grim, shipped there by New York in a trade last June, gained his first victory for the Athletics. It was against the Yankees. Grim hurled a shutout to boot. He held his former teammates to three hits in a 2-0 game, shortened to 4½ innings by rain.

In Detroit, righthander George Susce, sold by Boston to the Tigers earlier this season, hurled a 2-1 victory against the Red Sox. Susce gave up seven hits and held Ted Williams hitless.

In Cleveland, triples by ex-Baltimoreans Larry Doby and Billy Hunter figured in the Indians' two scoring innings as the Tribe defeated the Orioles 6-3. Pinch hitter Doby's three-bagger drove in the first of Cleveland's four runs in the sixth, erasing a 30 Baltimore lead. Hunter drove in a run with his seventh-inning triple ad he scored on a squeeze bunt.

Chicago climbed into a third place tie with Baltimore, outlasting Washington 11-9 in a slugfest.

Milwaukee regained first place in the National League—by one percentage point—defeating Los Angeles 4-3 as Cincinnati was slapping down the San Francisco Giants 5-1. Pittsburgh downed Chicago 7-1 in a game cut to 7½ inings by rain. Philadelphia thrashed St. Louis 5-1.

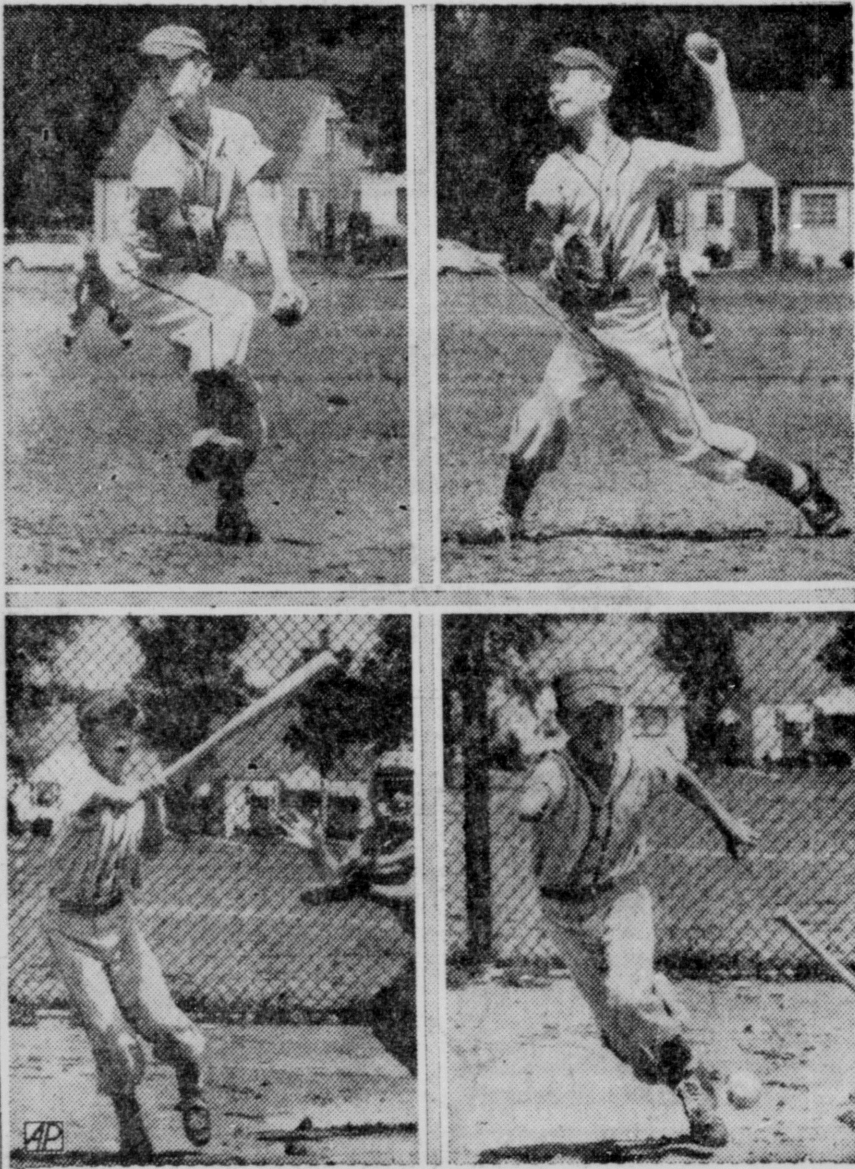

Chico Carrasquel's first-inning home run and fourthinning doubles by Roger Maris and Hal

Smith produced the runs which spelled Yankee Don Larsen's fifth defeat against seven victories.

Al Kaline tripled and scored on an infield out as Detroit snapped a 1-1 tie in the eighth. Ike Delock was the loser.

The Indians had tagged Arnold Portocarrero for only one hit before they erupted for their winning fourrun margin in the sixth. Ray Narleski received credit for his 11th triumph. He has lost eight.

The White Sox tallied eight times in the third—their biggest uprising of the year—but had to halt a Washington comeback to win. The Senators had the tying runs on base when Eddie Yost, who had a grand-slam homer in the fourth, flied out to end the game. Carry Staley, who relieved starter Jim Wilson in the fourth, won his fourth.

ONE-ARMER WOVES 'EM—Nine-year-old Jackie Gagnon was born with only one arm but he's the star pitcher on a school league baseball team in Detroit. A southpaw, Jackie pitched a no-hitter last week and does a neat fielding job, too. Upper pictures, he shows his pitching form as he delivers one, and lower, he lays down a bunt by balancing bat against his right arm. When not pitching he plays right field and is one of his league's best fielders.

Brave's Ace Finally Beats His Nemesis

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn, after beating the Dodgers Wednesday night for the first time in almost seven years, minimized the conquest saying, "Heck, everybody else has beaten them." But that was only his first comment in the clubhouse post-mortem following his 4-3 victory that lifted the Milwaukee Braves once more into first place in the National League, one percentage point in front of the San Francisco Giants. He added:

"I'm out to prove just one thing. This is the only club that has an edge over me. They're 24-14 against me, and it's the only black mark on my record. I want to get even before I quit."

"Last year I won the Cy Young award (for baseball's top pitcher), but even then I wasn't completely satisfied. The only thing I wanted more than ever was to pitch against the Dodgers. That's been a big sore spot with me. If you're considered a good pitcher, you're supposed to be able to pitch against everybody."

Spahn stopped them Wednesday night on six hits, but fell behind in the sixth inning when a pair of errors helped Los Angeles pile up its three runs, two of them unearned. The third run, which gave the Dodgers the lead at the time, was scored as the ball was passed around like a hot potato among six Braves.

In going the distance, Spahn notched his 13th victory against seven defeats. He struck out seven and walked only two.

American Flier Seeks Single-Engine Record

TOKYO (AP) — Distance flier Marion (Pat) Boling plugged along at a steady 125 miles an hour today en route from Manila to Seattle in an attempt to set a new nonstop record for single-engine planes.

Flying conditions were reported excellent along the entire route.

Boling, a 43-year-old airline pilot from Palo Alto, Calif., hopes to make the 6,682-mile flight in 45 hours arriving Friday morning. From Seattle he may continue on without landing to Wichita, Kan., if conditions permit.

His target is the single-engine nonstop record of 4,927 miles set by the late Capt. William Odom in 1949, flying an earlier Bonanza from Honolulu to Teterboro, N.J.

Golfers Begin Play In 1958 Chicago Open

CHICAGO (AP)—Big time golf pros today attacked par in the $50,000 Chicago Open.

The 6,350-yard Gleneagles Daily Fee course with its modest 35-35-70 standard provides a perfect target for the par-wrecking crews.

Rolling, closely cropped, unwatered fairways mean the meet will be decided on the greens, which, for the most part, tilt like nothing seen before by the touring brigade.

"Did you ever putt and have the ball roll back at you?" asked Sam Snead. "It can happen here."

Snead, however, hooked up a 64 in Wednesday's practice, as did Don January.

The course record of 63 appears doomed. The pros are guessing that anywhere from 261 to 270 will take the top prize of $9,000 when the 72-hole windup comes Sunday.

Some of the favorites in a field of 161 include Tommy Bolt, Art Wall Jr., Snead, Dow Finsterwald, Arnold Palmer, Jack Burke, Bob Rosburg, Doug Ford, Julius Boros, Peter Thomson and Jay Hebert.

Purkey Beats San Francisco For 13th Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — It isn't likely Bob Purkey ever will make baseball's Hall of Fame but he probably would if he could devote all his talents to pitching against the Giants — whether their first name be New York or San Francisco.

Purkey, who never has had more than a mediocre record until this year, now has allowed the Giants only one run in 51 innings since May 7, 1955.

They got that one run Wednesday night to break a string of 46 scoreless innings against Purkey but his Cincinnati Redleg team mates went on for a 5-1 victory.

The defeat was doubly hard for the Giants to take because it knocked them out of first place in the National League by one percentage point.

DIGIACOMO UP — Garry DiGiacomo makes like a jockey with 46-inch, 70½-pound red drum with a girth of 38½ inches. The Pleasantville, N.J., youngster hooked the big fellow while on a sightseeing cruise off Atlantic City. He was transferred from three boats before the big fish was gaffed.

Coach Brown Confident Of Player Brown

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Brown believes Brown will be even better for the Browns this year.

In other words, can sophomore fullback Jim Brown fulfill the expectations of Cleveland Browns' coach and general manager Paul Brown? The latter thinks he can.

"With that one season behind him he'll have more confidence, although he had plenty of that as a rookie," the veteran coach said. "That experience can't be overestimated."

"Yes, I'm expecting Jim to be an improved player."

A look at Jim Brown's 1957 record shows that he led the National Football League in rushing and was selected as the rookie of the year. He also set a new league mark for yards gained rushing in one game with 237 against the Los Angeles Rams.

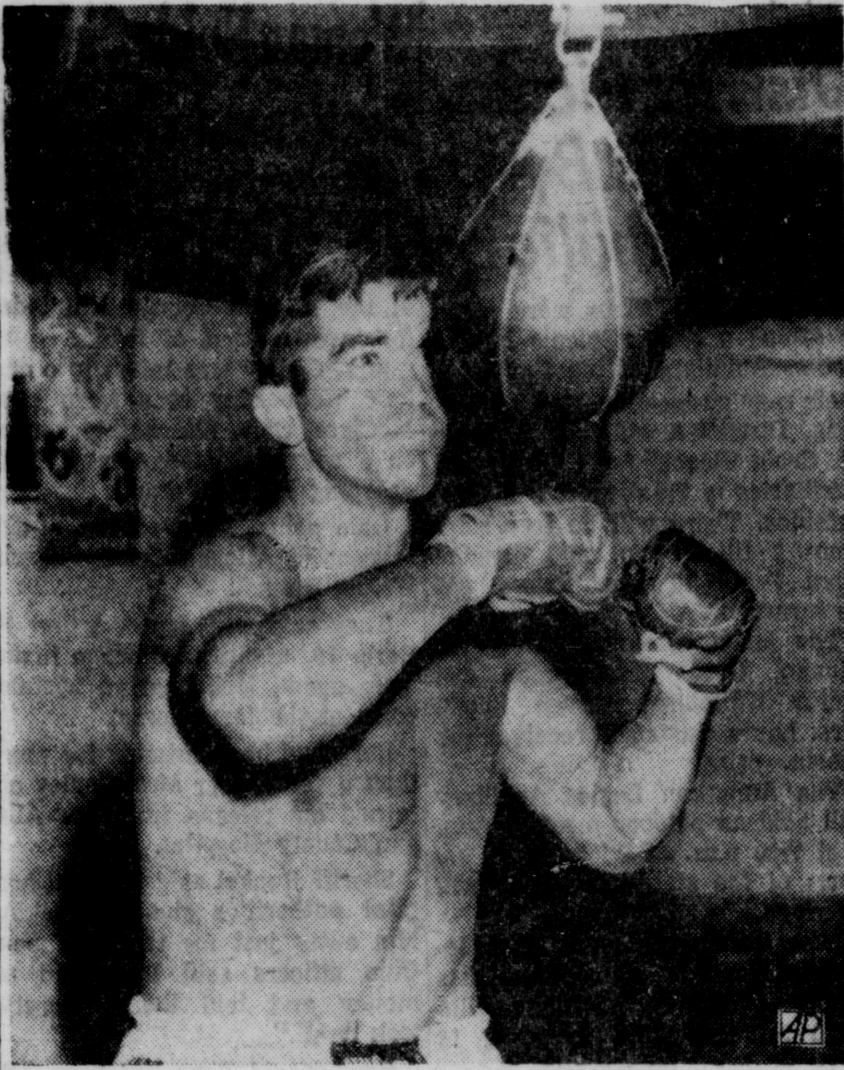

Brown reported to the training camp here after spending the off season in Army training at Fort Benning, Ga. He is in excellent shape and even surprised the coaches the other day with the fastest clocking over 40 yards in the initial time trials by players. He did it in 4.5 seconds.

The fullback says he, too, looks for improvement this season.

"For one thing I should handle my blocking assignments better," he explained. "Then, too, I know more about what we're trying to do."

"It's a good sized jump from college to pro football. You just don't learn it all in a year."

Terns, small sea birds resembling a tiny seagull, have a unique, but effective way of courting. The girl friend nestles quietly, and the male brings her food.

HARRIS OPENS TRAINING CAMP — Roy Harris, 25-year-old battler from Cut and Shoot, Tex., who will meet Floyd Patterson in a heavyweight title fight in Los Angeles, Aug. 18, officially opened his training camp at Arrowhead Springs near Lake Arrowhead, Cal., July 20. He went through a light workout which included some licks at punching bag.

USGA Junior Golf Tourney Moves To Quarter Final Play

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—When young America plays golf for keeps strange things happen and reputations, built hastily, die even faster.

There was heartache, 34 putts by one player over a 15-hole stretch, and the upset of a prime favorite in Wednesday's opening round of the U.S.G.A.'s Junior tournament at University of Minnesota course.

Today the surviving 64 youths, 17 and under, move into two more elimination rounds which will reduce the field to 16 by sundown. One of the not-so-happy of the 64 was Sonny Methvin of Little Rock, Ark., a semifinalist in 1957. Jack Lotz of San Lorenzo, Calif., beat him in the first round 2 up, ever after taking a triple bogey 7 on the first hole.

Rick Casabella of Louisville, Ky., also a semifinalist last year, solved some early troubles and defeated Bobby Morse of Peabody, Mass., 4 and 3.

The puttees, golfer on the first day was Dick Funk of Decatur, Ill., who 3-putted four greens on the front nine, ran up 21 putts over that stretch and took 13 more before Seve Cary of Lewiston, N.Y., closed him out 5 and 3 on the 15th.

Rev. Glassburn to Take New Position At Butler, Indiana

DAMASCUS — Rev. and Mrs. Owen Glassburn and family will be moving to Butler, Ind., the first part of September.

Rev. Glassburn has accepted a position as vice president, sales manager and field evangelist for the Robert E. Higley Press, and Mrs. Glassburn will be secretary for him.

The Myrtle Williams Missionary Auxiliary of the Friends Church will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Matti in Beloit on Thursday, Aug. 7, at an all day sewing. A coverdish dinner will be served at noon. Mrs. Gertrude Cattell will be in charge of the program.

The Damascus Debs enjoyed a picnic supper at Silver Park Monday evening after which the group attended a movie. It was decided to play miniature golf Monday evening Aug. 11.

Happy Go Lucky 4-H Club met Monday evening. Elizabeth Penrose was hostess, with the president, Martha Whitchee in charge.

The girls worked on their project books. Mrs. Herbert Whitchee, Mrs. Allen Stanley, Mrs. Richard Gologram and Mrs. Don Saltzman leaders were present. Lunch was served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. James Penrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wright and family of Tallmadge spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Wilson Moran and family. A picnic supper at the Community Center was a feature.

Merry Mixers Club will be entertained at a luncheon Wednesday by Mrs. Emil Stanley.

Thursday Afternoon Club will be entertained by Mrs. Jack Eyrick Aug. 7.

George Langer of Ann Arbor, Mich. was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Lora last week and attended the Santee-Ellett reunion.

Duo Decem Club will hold a family picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stryffeler Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wilson of Youngstown were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Mosher Sunday.

Mrs. Enoch Shreve of Cleveland is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Oswalt.

Mrs. Jerome Eagleton of Salem called on Mrs. Donald Oswalt recently.

Arthur Bye of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Miss Linda Bye of Barnesville and Mr. and Mrs. Foster Hall of Alliance were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Pemberton on Sunday.

House Group to Vote On Goldfine Citation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee was summoned to vote today whether to ask the House for a contempt of Congress citation against Bernard Goldfine.

A subcommittee has recommended such a citation against the Boston industrialist.

Goldfine, in testimony before a Commerce investigations subcommittee, refused to answer questions about financial transactions with companies he controlled. He said that was outside the subcommittee's jurisdiction.

Also today, the House Armed Services Investigations subcommittee meets to decide whether to have open hearings on the rebate of $41,000 wartime contract lateness penalties to a New Hampshire textile firm. Presidential assistant Sherman Adams' inquiries about the case have been criticized, but the White House said they were routine.

PICKS WRONG NAME

NAMPA, Idaho (AP) — A 13-year-old boy handed assistant store manager K.R. Isbell a $50 check to be cashed. Isbell was somewhat surprised because the check was signed with his name. The boy, awaiting probate action on charges of forgery, told police he just picked the name from 3,500 in the telephone directory.

Wins Baton Twirling Honors

Georgia Ann Lide

Georgia Ann Lide of Westville Lake has earned a total of nine trophies and 19 medals since entering her first competition last September at the Canfield Fair.

On Tuesday at the National Baton Twirling Association open contest at Bucyrus, O., Georgia Ann added two first-place trophies for her solo twirling in the girls advanced section open to residents of the United States and Canada, and for solo work in the flag swinging national competition.

In the ensembles and corps contest, the six-girl corps, called "The Robinettes," of which Georgia Ann is a member, took first place.

She also took a fourth place medal in the solo twirling competition in the girls advanced section open to Ohio residents only.

Georgia Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Lide.

Leetonia

District Picnic Plans Set By Club Auxiliary

LEETONA — Plans were made to attend a district picnic by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Eagles at their regular meeting Monday evening. District 8 will hold a picnic at Croig Beach Aug. 16 for all auxiliaries in the district and their families. There will be free rides from 2 till 6 p.m. and dancing from 7 till 10 p.m. Prizes will be awarded.

The lunch committee of Sylvia Clunan, Grace Zimmerman and Edith Whitehead served lunch. Mrs. Laura Gustafson received the special prize.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold an outdoor meeting Aug. 7 at 7:30 p.m. at Wick Park. Reports of the state convention will be given.

Miss Dorothy Hileman, Miss Josephine Rance of Leetonia and Miss Frances Gbur of Washingtonville have returned after spending 16 days at Fort Lauderdale, Miami and Key West, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grace of Pittsburgh are visiting his mother, Mrs. Ella Grace of Walnut St.

D. Wallace Rebekah Lodge will sponsor a benefit card party this evening at their hall. There will be prizes for high scores and lunch will be served.

LINEMAN ELECTROCUTED

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Steve F. Yurich, 34, an Ohio Edison lineman, was electrocuted Wednesday. A resident of nearby Struthers he was installing a new transformer on a pole and came in contact with a 2,400-volt wire, the company said.

APPOINTMENT APPROVED

WASHINGTON (AP) — The appointment of Robert W. Minor to a new term on the Interstate Commerce Commission was approved Wednesday by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. Minor is a native of Columbus, Ohio.

Woman Holds Ohioan Captive on Her Farm

ALLEGAN, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. Loretta Conley, 43, of Allegan, accused of holding an elderly man captive on an Ohio farm, was held at the Allegan County Jail today for investigation of fraud.

Mrs. Conley was taken into custody Wednesday at a farm near McClure, Ohio. She was picked up on a warrant dated April 2, 1957, charging her with fraud.

Ohio police arrested her at the request of Allegan County Sheriff Walter Runkel.

They said they found Arthur F. Berg, 78, a retired Chicago insurance agent, locked in an upstairs room at the farm home.

Berg had been missing for more than a year, after Mrs. Conley obtained his release from the Allegan County Hospital.

Sheriff Runkel said she told hospital authorities she was taking him away just for the afternoon. Ohio officers said Berg had no money and told them "Loretta took it all."

Runkel said Berg had been getting a $54 a month retirement check from an insurance company and $66 per month in social security.

The sheriff said he has photostatic copies of cancelled insurance checks showing Berg endorsed them over to Mrs. Conley.

Runkel said he also has several letters from an investigating office of the insurance firm saying they questioned the signatures on the checks.

The year-old fraud warrant charges Mrs. Conley with obtaining some $80 worth of appliances from an Allegan dealer through the name of a granddaughter.

Berg, described by Runkel as suffering from malnutrition, was returned to the county hospital.

Ex-Presidents Certain To Be Given Pensions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover, and President Eisenhower in 1961, are almost certain to be eligible for pensions of $25,000 annually.

They might even get free office space, free postage on up to 4,000 letters monthly, and a government-paid office staff.

The presidential pensions — and $10,000 yearly payments to widows of former presidents — were all but assured Wednesday when the House passed 165-45, a Senate approved bill.

It agreed on the pensions but balked on the free office space, free office staff and free mail privileges voted by the Senate.

350-Pound Lion Meets Children; Beast Runs

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — An escaped lion met a group of children playing in the street Wednesday night, and who got scared? The lion.

The frightened 340-pound beast jumped through an open window into the house of his owner, animal trainer Merrill W. Heuer, who exhibits him at carnivals and fairs. Heuer, sensibly, jumped out another window.

For more than two hours the lion tore around inside the house, ripping furniture, clawing draperies and emitting blood-chilling roars. Heuer finally lured him into a makeshift cage with a chunk of meat.

Heuer keeps the 7-year-old lion in a cage on his property near Malibu. He said he didn't know how the animal got out.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

PARIS, (AP) — As space age jets poured France's tricolor—red, white and blue vapor over the heads of a million Frenchmen, the firemen of Paris marched below as the Bastille Day parade rolled under my balcony. The smoke-eaters carried small machine guns. A friend told me that they've been armed ever since the Nazi occupation.

"Every one of us is ready to fight for France—and that means for you, too," my French friend snapped at me.

I keep remembering the French firemen and their machine guns, for I heard Gen. Raoul Salan of the original Algerian French Army rebel group, tell me virtually the same thing, only more diplomatically, of course.

I had been talking with the general in the bright sun on a Parisian street and what he said as we parted came from the heart of this man so close to Premier Charles de Gaulle:

"Mr. Riesel, I am a great friend of the Americans. I am sure the Americans too, are great friends of ours and today more than yesterday we have to fight together and I am sure that actually now we are on the right way to make the right fight for France — and for the United States."

GEN. SALAN, half his uniformed chest laden with warfield ribbons, twice said fervently, "Tell your people that" and walked back to his aides.

I report this now because there are two sets of reports at my typewriter now.

One is a confidential memo on the behind-the-scenes meetings of the French Communist party's high command during their national convention at Montreuil the other week.

This memo details the Moscow directives for attempts, first to overthrow Premier de Gaulle by combined new general strikes and political action. And then, when this fails, to prepare to put a so-called "workers' army" into the streets under civilian-clad Red military men trained in Moscow.

The other report is supplied by the gracious American ambassador to NATO, W. Randolph Burgess. We sat in his office, which once was Talleyrand's. Ambassador Burgess gazed out on the Place de La Concorde where the French egalitarian of old guillotined their despots.

The envoy offered some statistics on the NATO fight against the Red autocrats of today.

THESE ARE VITAL statistics — literally. On them, and on the role which a Free France plays in space for 410 million gallons of fuel.

UNDER CONSTRUCTION now throughout the NATO system, always pivoting on France, are hundreds of millions of dollars worth of airfields, signals, telecommunications, war headquarters, naval facilities, navigation aids, radar systems training installations and other construction far too secret to disclose now.

On the switchboards which will control this vastness and in the electronic fighting mechanisms which these control panels will unleash, there must not be any sabotage — not even a single loose wire. Nor can the Western forces survive if saboteurs are among the workers who maintain even the outside of these complex installations.

If Premier de Gaulle's government should fall or falter, the Soviets will move in fast. If the Soviets take over, they'll not only rip out the fighting hearts of the Free French but they'll rip the guts out of the West's infrastructure.

Inside, too, are electronic brains which "tell" a supersonic fighter pilot just what the Russians have at a particular spot which should be given the thermonuclear treatment — IF the Russians attack first.

To carry coded messages and other classified items there are soon to be a total of 11,750 miles of land lines and submarine cables. This is the "Signals Network."

There are also another 7,900 miles of radio lines in this network. There is a fuel supply system — 5,400 miles of pipelines. There are also storage tanks with them, rests the chances of our cities and our land not to be pulverized into thermonuclear red dust.

Premier de Gaulle's France is the pivotal "real estate" of an anti-Soviet NATO network of 226 airfields. Some of these are underground. They are part of what is called the "infrastructure" — the vast intermeshed transcontinental defense mechanism which the Russians must first destroy before they can strangle Western freedom.

This infrastructure reaches from the Arctic across Van Gogh-colored French farmland and on the Turkey. Deep inside these bases are direct wires to Germany and back to the Pentagon.

Pineapple Chicken

Ingredients: 1 broiler fryer about 2½ pounds ready to cook weight cut into 10 pieces, 3 tablespoons salad (not olive oil, 2 tablespoons water, ¾ to 1 cup thin onion strips, Pineapple Sauce, ½ cup thin celery crescents, 1 can (4½ ounces water chestnuts (sliced into thin rounds, ½ of a medium-sized green pepper (cut into thin strips salt.

Method: Wash and dry chicken pieces on towel; reserve wing tips, neck and giblets for stock.

Brown chicken in hot oil in 10 to 12-inch skillet on both sides; do this in two lots if necessary. Add water to chicken in skillet, cover tightly and steam until just tender — 10 to 15 minutes, depending on browning time.

Remove chicken from skillet. Add onion to drippings; cook gently until partly wilted, stirring often with wooden spoon to get up drippings. Add Pineapple Sauce; cook and stir constantly until all drippings are blended and sauce is thickened and clear.

Stir in pineapple reserved from sauce, celery and water chestnuts; arrange browned chicken on top; sprinkle with green pepper. Cover and reheat gently — 10 to 15 minutes. Add salt to taste. Makes 4 large servings.

Pineapple Sauce: Blend 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 2 tablespoons of cold water, 2 tablespoons imported dark soy sauce and 1 teaspoon salt. Stir in 1 clove crushed garlic and the syrup drained from 1 can (1 pound and 4 ounces pineapple chunks; reserve pineapple.

ON THE ALERT

Troop-carrying helicopters sweep inland to drop platoons behind "enemy" lines.

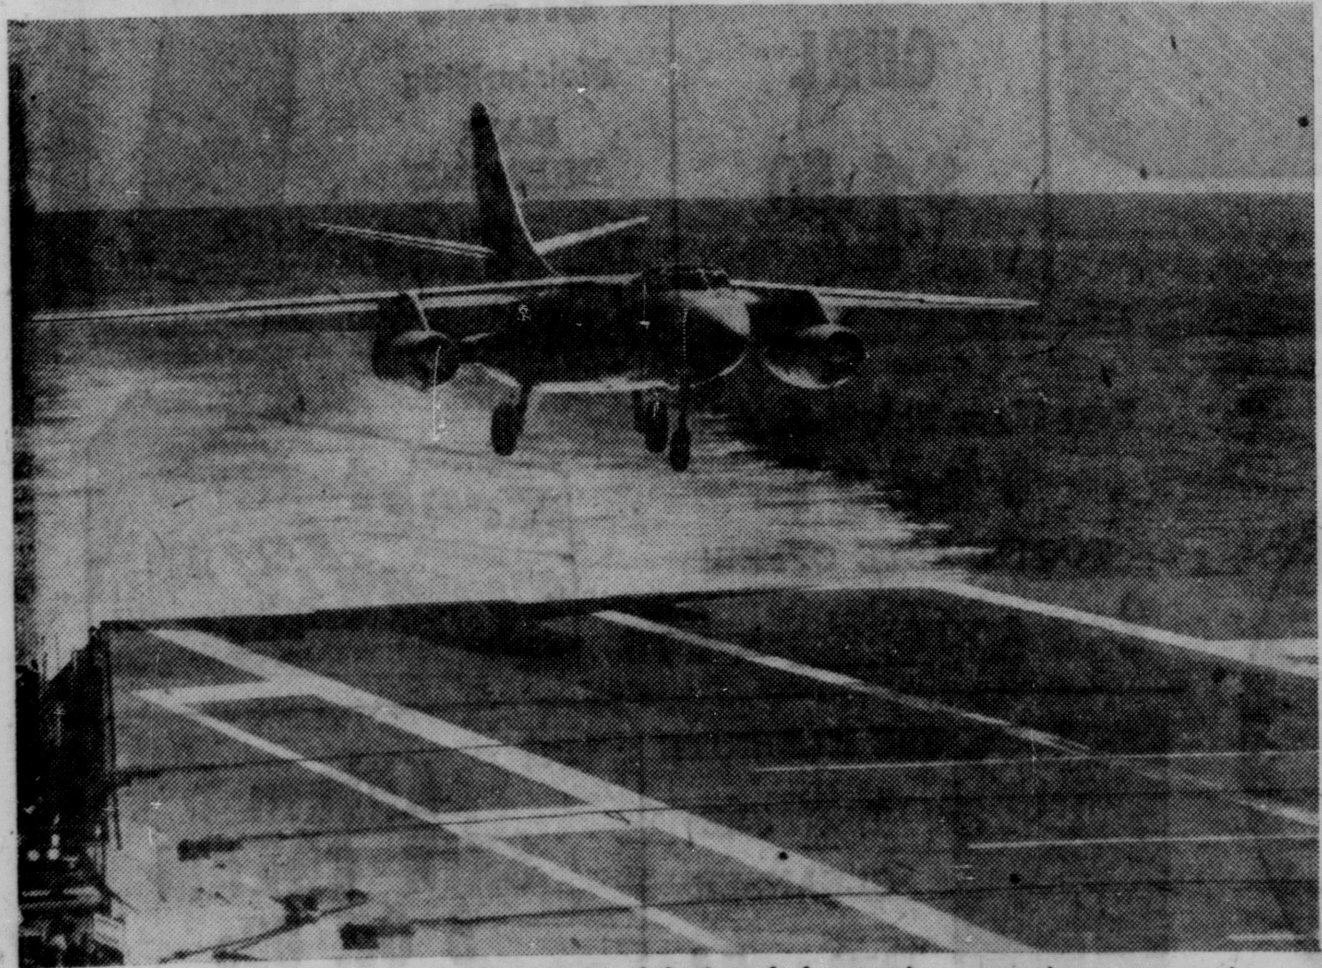

WHILE UNITS of the U. S. Navy's Atlantic fleet are in the Mid-East headlines, the Pacific fleet, world's largest naval command, is constantly in readiness throughout its enormous maritime area. With headquarters at Pearl Harbor, some 400 ships, 2,800 aircraft and more than 200 thousand Navy and Marine personnel patrol more than 85 million square miles with the help of the U. S. Army Pacific and the Pacific Air Forces. The mission of the team is to preserve peace and, to carry out that task, the fleet is continually undergoing rigorous training that ranges throughout the entire Pacific area. The four photographs were taken during a rugged training exercise, both at sea and ashore.

FALLEN IN LINE OF DUTY—A member of an honor guard in Victoria, B. C., faints, but, true to their traditions of strict military discipline, his comrades don't make a move to help him. The police came and carried fallen soldier off to be revived.

NOW THEY KNOW—Tired of being asked where he wound up his small car, Don Scott, of Decatur, Ga., put a key in back. Actually, the car has an internal combustion engine. Now they don't ask.

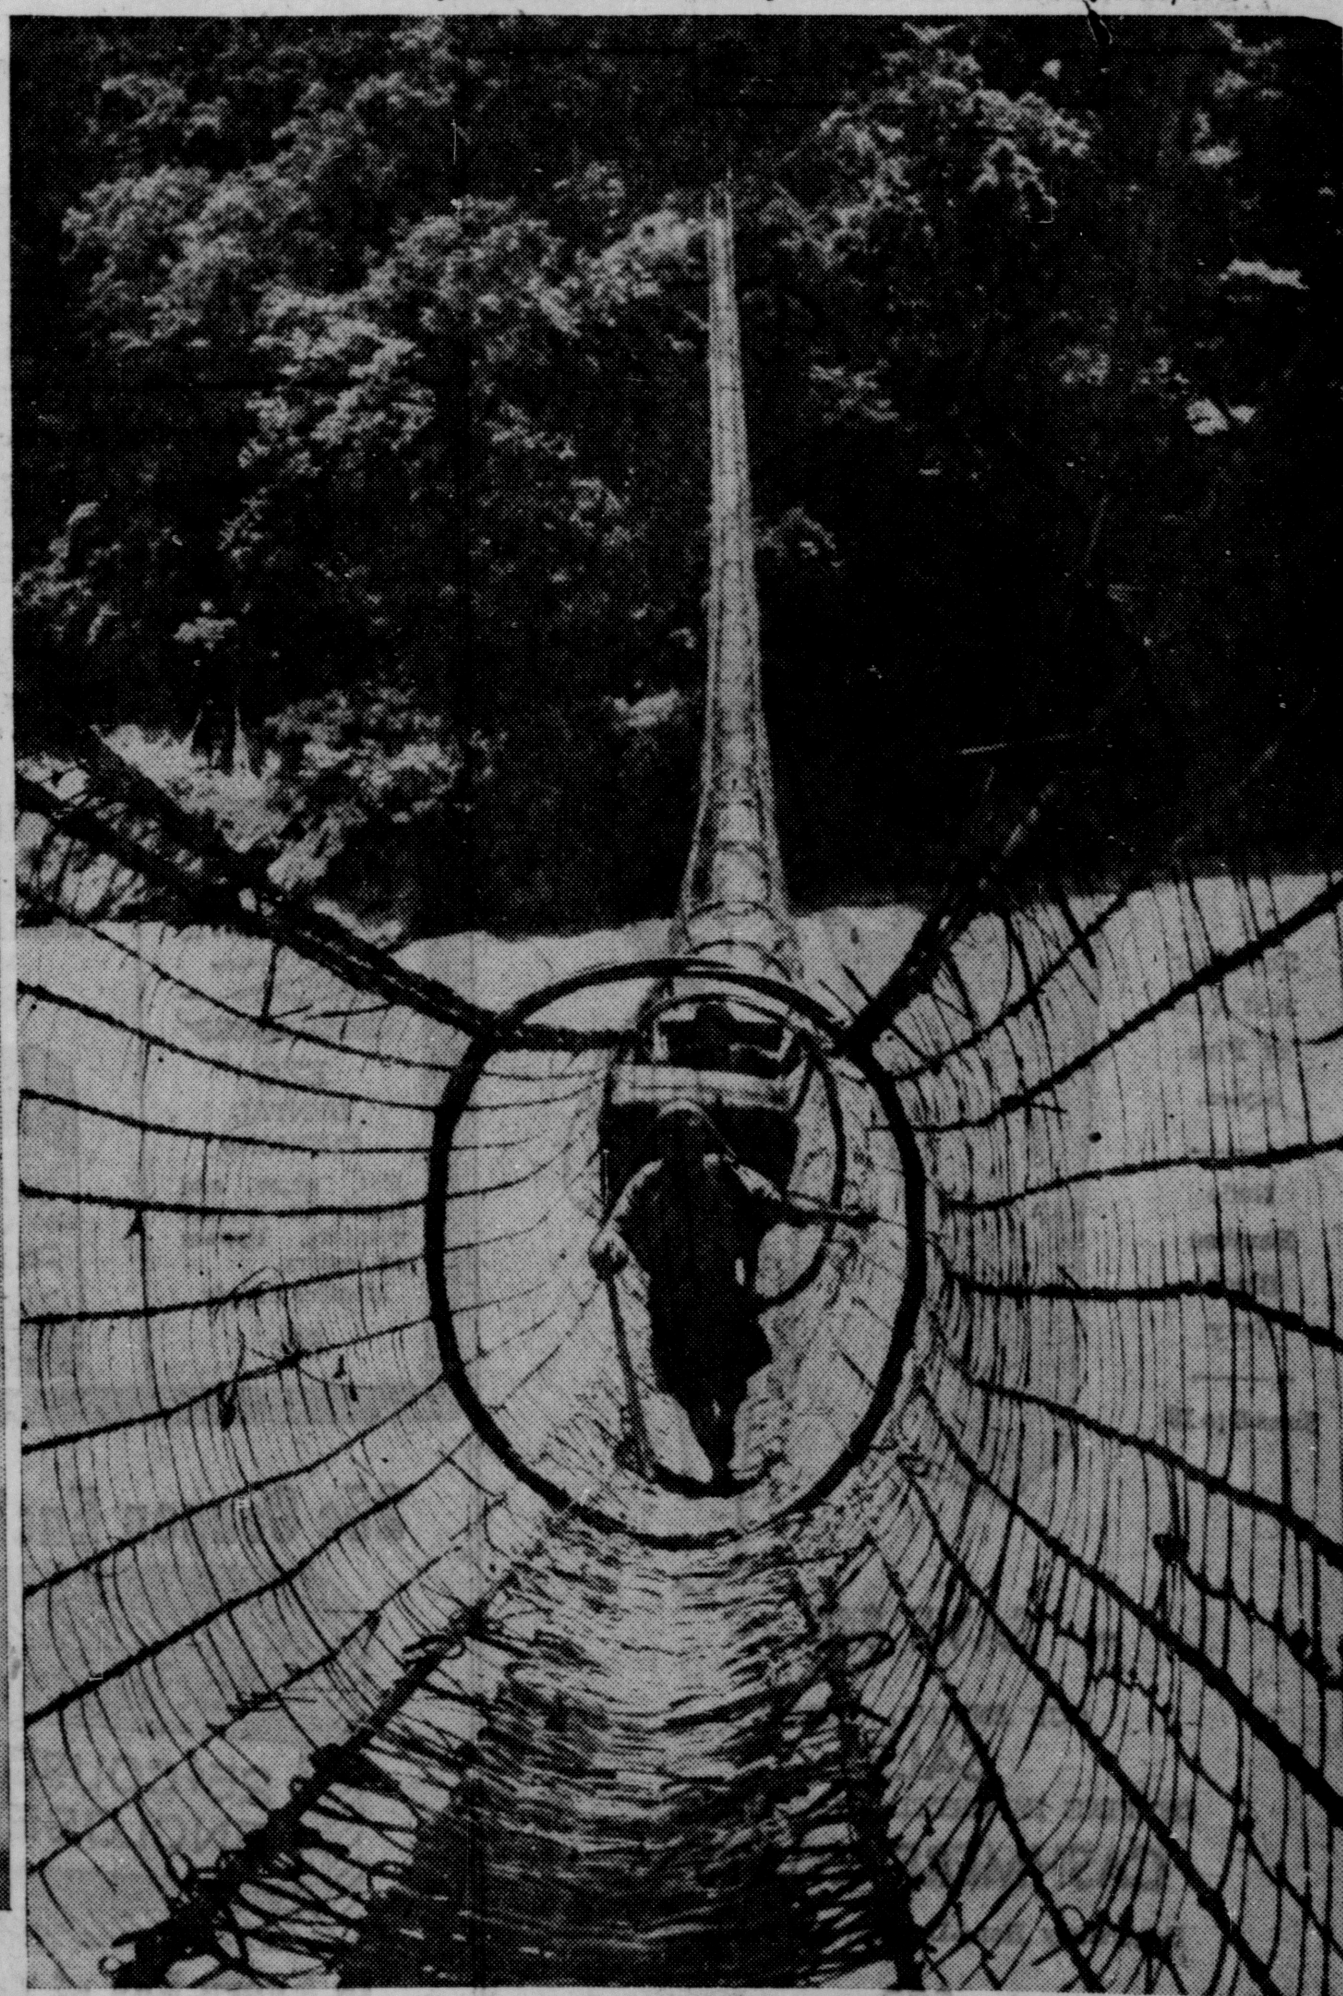

THE WOOL SACK—Garlene Call, of Idaho Falls, Id., didn't attend the New York fashion shows, but she favors the wool sack for warmth and economy—this dress cost her 55 cents. The ladder that's on the inside of the "sack dress" costs a little extra.

MODEL WEATHER—Although this might be a scene in Anchorage, Alaska, it's really New York in July. Shawn Donohue (left) and Melisa Weston ignore the humidity as they model some winter outfits.

ROLL OUT THE BEER BARRELS—Hundreds of Germans—squeezed in like a cork in a bottle of champagne—gather in Marburg for a beer breakfast, a feast which precedes World War II days. Rain came and everyone was wet on the outside, too.

BRIDGE NOT FOR NOVICES—This isn't a brother to the bridge on the River Kwai, but an ages-old one in the Loyo area of Tibet. It's a rickety cane rope bridge. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

Hanoverton Festival's Great Success

HANOVERTON — Average crowds of 450 persons per night plus gross receipts totaling $2,400 all contributed to the success of the Festival held by the Lepine-Rush American Legion and Hanover Twp. Volunteer Firemen's Association last week on the Legion Home grounds.

Music was furnished by the United High School Band directed by John Glauner.

GAMMA PHI CHAPTER of the E.S.A. sorority held a picnic at Centennial Park in Salem Thursday. Guests present were Mrs. Jen Karaffa of Summitville and Mrs. Hill Hartman of Minerva. Plans were made for a family picnic at the Frank Grubbs cottage at Guilford Lake Aug. 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sinclair of Cadiz visited the latter's sister, Mrs. Nellie Sinclair, this past week.

Dr. H. J. Pelly, his daughters Mildred and Paulina, called on his niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Pollock of Lisbon Friday.

Several members from Sandy Valley Lodge F.A.M. visited the Masonic Home in Springfield Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Istel of Mokena, Ill. is visiting her mother, Mrs. Jennie Bower.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cole visited in Akron Sunday afternoon.

The annual homecoming program of the community will be held Sunday at the American Legion home. L. E. Faloon is general chairman.

The Nifty Nine club will meet Aug. 24 in the form of a family picnic at Diehl Lake.

MR. AND MRS. MERVIN McKarns and Becky attended the annual McKarns reunion recently at Minerva park.

Mrs. W. E. Walker and Mrs. J. H. Sinclair were guests of Mrs. Hazel Jobs of Minerva last week.

Mrs. Nellie Sinclair returned home this past week after visiting in California. She visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ling, Mr. and Mrs. W. Arthur Rush, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Swinton and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Cox.

Recent guests with H. J. Pelley and daughters Mildred and Paulina were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pelley of East Liverpool, Mrs. B. W. Loudon of Minerva and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Roach.

Sunday afternoon callers in the Mrs. Sadie Furey home were Mr. and Mrs. Vance Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bourquin of Canton, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Owen of Augusta and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Furey of Malvern.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Lutz and Betty Lou of Kensington called on her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Andre Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parks of Cleveland were recently visitors with Mrs. E. E. Bower.

A meeting of the building committee from the Presbyterian Church met recently at the church. Paul Boucherle of Youngstown met with the committee and presented proposed plans and specifications for an annexation of a Sunday School room to the main church building.

The 35-foot by 41-foot room will house 5 class rooms on first floor level and new kitchen and social plans will be forwarded to Lee Bowman, committee chairman, for presentation to contractors for bids.

Household Hints

It's been some time since you've baked a cake from "scratch", you'd be wise to review some of the basic mixing rules.

One of the most fundamental, for example, applies to the creaming of butter and sugar—first steep in making a good butter cake.

Fresh Lemon Barbecue Sauce

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

With fresh lemons and fresh vegetables on the abundant list, and outdoor barbecuing and eating now our major sport, let's enjoy these new and delightful recipes:

London Broils in Fresh Lemon Barbecue Sauce (Yield: 6 servings)

Marinate 6 London broils (rolled flank steak cut into 1-inch slices) in Fresh Lemon Barbecue Sauce for at least 1 hour. Drain and wrap each steak in a strip of bacon. Fasten ends with toothpicks. Brush with marinade sauce and place on the grill. Cook on both sides, about 10 minutes. The cooking time will vary with the heat of the fire. Serve with some of the remaining sauce, if desired.

Fresh Lemon Barbecue Sauce
(Yield: 1½ cups)

Saute ¼ cup finely chopped onion in 3 tablespoons salad oil until limp. Add ½ cup fresh lemon juice, 1-3 cup vinegar, ¼ cup catsup, ¼ cup water, 1 tablespoon of brown sugar, 1¼ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper, ½ teaspoon garlic powder, 1 teaspoon powdered dry mustard, and ¼ teaspoon ground red pepper. Bring to boiling point. Cool.

Hot Succotash Salad
(Yield: 56 servings)

Saute ½ cup sliced onions in 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine in a heavy skillet until onions are limp. Add 2 cups shelled fresh lima beans (2-3 pounds unshelled), 1 cup water and ½ teaspoon salt. Bring to a boil. Cover and cook 10 minutes or until beans are almost tender. Add 2 cups fresh cut corn kernels (3-4 ears), ¼ cup diced green or red pepper and 1 cup sliced celery. Continue cooking, covered, until corn is tender, about 5 minutes. Drain, if necessary.

Combine 1-3 cup mayonnaise with 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper, ¼ teaspoon garlic powder, ½ teaspoon powdered dry mustard and ½ teaspoon whole dill seed. Add to vegetables. Toss lightly. Serve hot.

Household Hints

Good Idea: Bake a sponge cake in a regular large shallow pan just as you would for jelly roll. Then instead of rolling the cake, cut it crosswise into thirds. Sandwich layers together with whipped cream and berries or other fruit in season for a glorious triple-deck concoction.

Veal Roast In Foil

The Sunday meat can now be roasted in a way to save time and pot pan washing. For example, in the following recipe, hot mushroom gravy is made while the "packet" veal roast is cooking, thereby eliminating draining off the juices, thickening and correcting seasonings at the last minute.

Packet Veal Roast with Mushroom Gravy (Serves 6-8)

Three and one-quarter pounds veal shoulder, boned and rolled; 8 medium mushrooms, whole or sliced; 3 tablespoons cooking oil, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons monosodium glutamate, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 cup water, quilted broiling foil.

Place veal on sheet of quilted broiling foil twice the length of the meat. Put on shallow baking pan, tipping up foil sides. Place mushrooms on meat. Combine oil, flour, salt, monosodium glutamate, pepper, and onion. Without cooking, gradually stir in water until mixture is smooth. Pour over meat. Double fold opposite sides of foil to seal and make an airtight packet. Bake in moderate oven (325 degrees F. for 1½ hours. To test for doneness pierce top of roast through foil with fork. Remove roast from foil to hot serving platter. Pour off gravy and meat juices and stir quickly with fork for 5 seconds or until smooth. Serve immediately.

A reader has requested a recipe for fluffy white rice.

Fluffy White Rice
(Makes 3 heaping cups)

Put 1 cup uncooked rice, 2 cups cold water and 1 teaspoon salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring water to a vigorous boil, then turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a tight-fitting lid and cook for 14 minutes. Do not remove lid or stir rice while it is cooking. Remove from heat. The rice is now ready to use. For extra fluffy rice, however, leave the cover on the saucepan for 10 minutes longer to allow the rice to steam.

Raisin-Flavored Kuchen

In an old-fashioned, comfortable, family type of living, kuchen and other home-baked breads play a traditional part. So let's indulge in a loaf of country kuchen, enriched with raisins, almonds and spices. Just the wonderful aroma of it baking in the oven is enough to make a man feel more secure in a troubled world.

Country Kuchen (Makes one 8-inch round loaf)

One (14½-ounce package) hot roll mix, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon ground cardamom (or cinnamon), ½ cup chopped roasted almonds, ¼ cup light or dark raisins, ¼ cup slivered citron, 1 egg, ¼ cup melted butter or margarine.

Combine flour mixture from hot roll mix with sugar, spice, almond raisins and citron. Dissolve yeast according to package directions, using 1-3 cup less liquid than directed. Beat egg lightly and stir egg and butter into yeast. Blend into dry mixture. Cover bowl closely and let stand in warm place until doubled in volume. Turn out onto floured board and knead down. Shape into small round loaf and place on greased 8-inch cake or pie tin. Grease top of loaf. Let rise 30 minutes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F. about 40 minutes).

A hot iron and damp cloth will freshen a crushed pile rug. Run iron over cloth but don't press down on the iron. Brush spots briskly and repeat ironing if necessary.

Sour Cream Sauces

Commercial sour cream adds smoothness and flavor to many hot-weather dishes. Delightful on fresh berries. Perfect as a sauce for vegetables.

At the Public House in Sturbridge, Mass., noted for gourmet food, we had a French omelet served with a dollop of red caviar and a garnish of sour cream. A really delightful and colorful luncheon dish and very easy to prepare.

Cooking experts of the U.S. Department of Agriculture have prepared a leaflet on uses of sour cream (Leaflet No. 213, price 5 cents. U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C.). It can add greatly to the pleasure of your summer menus. Here are recipes from it:

Sour Cream Cucumber Sauce For Fish

One-half cup sour cream, whipped, 2 small cucumbers, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons vinegar, a few drops of Tabasco sauce.

Pare and put the cucumbers in iced water to stand for an hour or two. Wipe them, then chop fine and drain. Add the seasonings to the whipped cream and, just before serving, stir in the cucumbers. This sauce is especially good over hot or cold salmon or other fish.

Sour Cream Salad Dressing

One cup sour cream, 2 eggs, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon mustard, a few drops of Tabasco sauce.

Mix the sugar, salt and pepper in a bowl. Add the lemon juice and vinegar; then stir this mixture gradually into the whipped cream. Serve on cabbage, cucumbers or lettuce.

We have our own recipe for salad dressing. First make French dressing with oil, lemon juice or vinegar and spices. Then pour the French dressing into an equal amount of sour cream. Beat with rotary beater until slightly thickened. Try this over a bowl of finely shredded cabbage, green pepper, lettuce, onion, and drained canned pineapple wedges. Remarkably good.

Kitchen Thrift: A hamburger leftover? Crumble it and add it, with thin onion and green pepper strips lightly cooked in butter, to eggs that are to be scrambled. Nice for lunch!

The Perfect Housekeeper: Cleans silver forks, used in eating scrambled or hard-cooked eggs, right after the meal.

Mother's Helper: Small girls think ironing is glamorous! Start them off by letting them iron dish towels and other straight pieces.

Garden Greens: Perch a sprig of mint atop that fruit cup of orange and grapefruit sections.

Menu For Wagon Vagabonds

Pile the family and the picnic lunch basket into the station wagon, then drive off to a shady glen, to the shore or any other place to take your mind off the heat.

When the gang is hungry, stop the car, let down the tailgate. It makes a large flat surface for picnic lunch. Cover it with a checkered cloth. No cooking at this picnic, but there's substantial and pleasant fare.

Menu: Crusty French bread, cheese, canned pate (ham or liver), vacuum bottle of hot coffee or tea for adults, chocolate picnic shake or fresh fruit punch in vacuum bottle for youngsters, vagabond cookies, fresh fruit.

When ready to eat, set out paper plates, cups, napkins and food. Have a bread board and sharp knife for cutting the bread, cheese and fruit.

Vagabond Cookies (Yield: about 4 dozen)
One-half cup shortening, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 egg, ¼ cup honey, 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels.

Cream together shortening, vanilla, sugar and cinnamon until light and fluffy. Beat in egg. Blend in honey. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add to honey mixture; mix only until blended.

Stir in semi-sweet chocolate morsels. Spread in greased pan 15 x10x1 inch. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 12 minutes. When cool, cut into 3x1 inch bars.

Chocolate Picnic Shake (Yield: 4 servings)

One-half cup quick chocolate flavored mix, 1½ cups milk, 1 pint vanilla ice cream.

Put quick chocolate flavored mix into wide-mouth quart vacuum bottle. Pour in milk; shake well. Spoon in ice cream; shake thoroughly. Before serving, shake again.

Try Chicken Go-Round Tarts

When you want something a little different for supper, try tender tarts filled with creamed chicken. You'll like the ease with which this corn meal pie crust rolls out. The tarts are entree and vegetable combined in one.

Serve tart salad of orange, grapefruit and avocado with these Chicken Go Round Tarts.

Pie Crust: One half cup enriched corn meal, 1½ cups sifted enriched flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup shortening, 4-6 tablespoons of cold water.

Filling: Two 10½-ounce cans of mushroom soup, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, ¼ teaspoon curry powder, 2 cups diced cooked chicken, dash of pepper, 1 chicken bouillon cube, 1 10-ounce package frozen mixed vegetables, cooked.

Heat oven to very hot (450 degrees F.). For pie crust, sift together corn meal, flour and salt into a bowl. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add water a tablespoon at a time, mixing with a fork until pastry can be formed into a ball. Turn out onto a lightly floured board or canvas; divide dough into 2 parts. Roll out each part to about ¼ inch thickness. Cut dough into 6 circles slightly larger than inverted tart pans. Fit dough into tart pans; flute edge and prick surface of each with fork. Place on cookie sheet. Bake in preheated oven (450 degrees F.) 12-15 minutes.

For filling, place soup, chopped onion, pepper and chicken bouillon cube in saucepan over very low heat (may use double boiler). Heat thoroughly, stirring occasionally. edge of each tart.

Sunday Brunch

Why persist in serving late Sunday breakfast indoors, if you have outdoor cooking equipment in the yard? Actually it requires only a little more planning and some minor pre-preparation in the kitchen to cook a leisurely breakfast in the yard.

Let your meal be bountiful but not so elaborate that all the fun of eating outdoors is gone.

Here is a sample menu which can be executed with ease.

Outdoor Breakfast

Chilled melon quarters with sliced berries, grill Canadian bacon, scrambled eggs Oriental, coffee cake, butter, hot coffee, milk.

Prepare chilled fruits in the kitchen and carry them to the yard table on one large tray. You might if you wish, prepare coffee on the kitchen range, too, and keep it warm on the grill.

While thin slices of bacon are frizzling on the grill, cook the scrambled eggs Oriental.

You probably will find it simpler to blend the egg mixture at your kitchen counter too; then tote the mixture to your grill.

Scrambled Eggs Oriental

2 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 can bean sprouts, ½ cup sliced water chestnuts, 6 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, 2 teaspoons soy sauce.

Cook onion in butter until tender in large skillet. Drain bean sprouts thoroughly and add to the onion. Then add water chestnuts. Mix lightly. Combine eggs, salt, pepper and soy sauce, beating slightly. Pour over bean sprouts and chestnuts.

Negev Desert's Future Held By Biblical Past

BY ERIC GOTTGREU
JERUSALEM (AP) — The secret that could turn the Southern Desert Negev into a land of milk and honey may be locked deep in the Biblical past.

For years, Israeli water planners have sought ways to irrigate this rugged wasteland between the Dead Sea and the Sinai border. Now they have discovered the remains of a farm estimated to be 2,800 years old.

"One day when driving my jeep along the road to Eilat," says Prof. Michael Evenari of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem, "I saw in the area of the Machtesh Haramon mountains, about 200 kilometers south of Beersheba, close to the roadside, a cistern quite different from the traditional Nabatean cisterns further north."

"Nearby I found ruins of what seemed to me to be a fortress from Biblical times. I called in the Hebrew University archeologist Dr. Yohanan Aharoni who is an expert on Biblical archeology of that period and he confirmed that it was obviously one of the fortresses built by the Kings of Judah to protect the famous trade route from the southern end of the Dead Sea to Kadesh Barnea in Northern Sinai."

WITH A GRANT from the Ford Foundation, Evenari directed a thorough examination of the area around the old fortress. Agricultural and water specialists took part. They found that the cistern, used to collect rain water through artificial channels from the surrounding hills, was in the center of a now completely desolate farm area.

The remains of a homestead were found and partly excavated.

Remains of cisterns, water conduits and terraced fields—showing clearly that desert dwellers cultivated the soil many hundreds of years ago—were found previously in the Negev area. But all these finds were made within a radius of 50 kilometers of Beersheba and date no further back than the times of the Nabatean settlers—300 B.C. to 700 A.D.

But the structure of the farmhouse discovered by Evenari's party and the shape of ceramics uncovered from the excavations date the farm to the period of the Kings of Judah—the 8th Century before the birth of Christ.

II CHRONICLES, Chapter 26, tells the tale of these, King Uzziah, reconquered the Red Sea port of Eilat from the Edomites, opened new trade routes and "also he built towers in the desert, and digged many wells; for he had much cattle, both in the low country, and in the plains; husbandmen also, and vine-dressers in the mountains, and in Carmel; for he loved husbandry."

It isn't known what the peasants of King Uzziah planted in the desert.

What is known says Prof. Evenari, is that they used the same system of desert cultivation as the Nabateans and the Romans and Byzantines who followed them. They probably were the inventors of this system.

They collected the floodwater runoff after the winter rains and diverted it through ingeniously built canals and spillways all over their terraced fields and into the oadis (valleys) they deemed appropriate for agriculture. The surplus water was kept in cisterns.

OBVIOUSLY, he says, the Biblical farmers knew exactly how deep the water had to penetrate into the soil to make a good harvest.

Spurred by the discovery, Evenari and a group of experts will stay in the desert region for about a year reactivating some of the ancient waterworks, studying the rainfall and the water runoff, and growing experimental crops.

Only after exhaustive tests, says Evenari, can it be determined whether it will be feasible to re-introduce the same, or an adjusted, system of arid land agriculture as that practiced in the Negev 2,800 years ago.

Sandwich Treat

Ingredients: 1 cup finely chopped cooked smoked tongue, 1 can (4 1/2 ounces) chopped black olives, 1/2 cup finely diced celery, 1/4 cup mayonnaise-type salad dressing, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, salt, pepper, thinly-sliced bread, butter.

Method: Mix together the tongue, olives, celery, salad dressing and lemon juice; add salt and pepper to taste. There will be about 2 cups spread. Use as filling between buttered slices of bread — 1/4 cup spread for each sandwich. Refrigerate any leftover spread in covered jar for use next day. Tongue should be knife chopped rather than put through food chopper.

Blueberry Cake

Ingredients—1 cup sifted flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1-3 cup milk, 1 tablespoon butter (melted and cooled), 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup blueberries (washed and dried, topping).

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Beat egg until thick and pale color and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients; stir vigorously just until smooth. Fold in blueberries.

Turn into buttered baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches. Drop blobs of the Topping from the tip of a teaspoon over batter. Bake in moderate (350 degrees oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 30 minutes. Cut into portions in pan; remove with spatula; serve warm with lemon or orange sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Topping: Melt 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in a small skillet; stir in 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon and 2 tablespoons finely chopped walnuts.

Budget Minder: Roll out scraps of pie dough and cut into tiny rounds with the top of a metal bouillon can and bake; serve with soup instead of croutons.

Fruit Combination: Ever team fresh blueberries with strawberries fresh or frozen? Good served with plain or whipped cream.

I have been thinking meat prices would be cheaper, but today I received the market report from Kansas City stocks and feeder report saying prices are strong, in fact some fancy Angus steer calves sold up to $45 per hundred and Angus steer yearlings up to $40 per hundred for fall delivery. Pork will be cheaper this fall, but I believe high beef prices are here to stay. We will continue to sell good home dressed meat at a reasonable price.

I watched television for two hours," he said, "and didn't see a single horse."

This may mark a historic moment in the video industry. For come autumn, such an experience may be next to impossible.

The hoofbeats of the horse opera will echo in the nation's living rooms as never before.

Two years ago there were only 11 Western series on the major networks, last year 16. But the season upcoming will have nearly two dozen—that is, if Hollywood doesn't run out of horses and blank cartridges.

Does the sight of a galloping nag now give you a kind of queasy sick feeling? Well, there's only one way out. You turn off your TV set and turn on your radio. Then you won't have to watch a have to listen to it.

Whether Westerns are really as popular with the people as producers and sponsors seem to think is open to argument. But there is no question they have had a tremendous impact on our current culture.

More money is spent in filming Westerns each year than was required to buy all of Alaska in 1867. Many of us now feel more familiar with the streets of such old Western towns of Tombstone and Dodge City than we are with the streets of our own city. Many of us feel we know Wyatt Earp and Billy the Kid better than we do our next door neighbor.

The cult of the cowboy and the gunman, like the cult of bosom worship in America, sometimes seems to have gone beyond the boundaries of pure entertainment and to have approached the proportions of a national neurosis.

One veteran program chief gives this as the reason behind the epidemic of Westerns:

"TV is an escape medium. The best kind of escape is one in which you are shocked and threatened—but not in a way that really could happen to you."

"That's why Westerns succeed. You enjoy the tense feeling of watching someone walk down a street in Dodge City in 1870 to face a gunman. But one reason you enjoy it is that, basically, you know you won't have to do it yourself."

"Modern plays about the loneliness and despair every man must face in living may be great art, but they are too real. Sponsors don't like them because they scare you out of your house and into the nearest bar."

This estimate of the situation is probably true. Watching Westerns is for many of us—like the ostrich's fabled custom of sticking its head in the sand—a way to keep from thinking about our own lives and problems. Problems we can understand, such as the need for meeting a mortgage payment; problems we can't understand, such as what to do in the Middle East.

Back of it all may be the wild hope that someday, somehow, Marshal Dillon or Wyatt Earp will get Nikita Khrushchev in their gunights and end all our worries.

The average freight train in 1957 consisted of 69 cars, a new record. This was almost 43 per cent more cars than in the average freight train of 1939.
